High Officials Facing Fear Of World Crisis

President And Secretary
Marshall See Grave Situation Confronting World

FOREIGN POLICY CHANGES LIKELY

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The administration's fear that the aroused passions of the people on both sides of the iron curtain may precipitate a world crisis emerged today as one of the major problems facing high officials.

Public declarations by President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall indicate plainly that the world situation is grave and that the great fear is that an embittered public may touch off a crisis which might lead ultimately to warfare.

Faith Shaken

Mr. Truman declared that his faith in world peace has been shaken by recent events and endorsed Marshall's statement in which the secretary said the world situation is "very, very serious" and that he fears outbursts of passion at home and abroad.

While both officials insistently deny that any change in U. S. foreign policy is involved, students of the situation are convinced a modification in various connections are indicated. These changes are believed to include:

Probable Changes

1. Expansion and revision of the Truman doctrine, which was proclaimed just a year ago today. That statement said that it aimed at preventing an outside force from establishing totalitarian re-

Miss Ferguson, a senior who is majoring in Home Economics, is active on campus as a member of the A Cappella Choir, Sigma Alpha Iota, national music honorary for women, Home Economics Club, and the P.A.D. social club. Miss Ferguson also reigns over her class this year as senior beauty queen.

Await Verdict In Meyers' Case

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—A federal court jury began deliberating at 11:40 a. m. EST. today whether Maj. Gen. Bennett Meyers is guilty of inducing his wartime business associate, Blieriot Lamarre, to lie under oath.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—A federal court jury may decide today whether Maj. Gen. Bennett Meyers must face a prison sentence on charges he induced his former friend, Blieriot Lamarre, to lie under oath.

The jury is scheduled to begin its deliberations today after receiving instructions from District Judge Alexander Holtzoff. If a guilty verdict is returned, Meyers faces a possible 30-year sentence under the subordination of perjury indictment.

The 13-day trial wound up in a blaze of charges and countercharges Thursday as attorneys for both sides presented their final arguments to the jury.

Former Nazi Airman Claims That Hitler Escaped Into Spain

German Pilot Contends He Was With Airplane Party That Fled From Berlin

NUERNBERG, March 12.—(INS)—American war crimes prosecutors want to look further into the story of a German airman who said Adolf Hitler did not die in Berlin but escaped instead to Spain.

Authorities charged with prosecuting former Nazi pilot, Friedrich Angelote-Mackensen, planned to question him.

The prosecutors said they want to get to the bottom of Mackensen's story that Hitler escaped.

Mackensen contends that he was with a party which left with Hitler from Berlin by air in May of 1945 for Tondor, Denmark. From Tondor, Mackensen said planes left for Spain.

The pilot said while near Marseille American fighter planes attacked the German craft and that his own plane was forced down, crashed and burned. Mackensen said that the plane with Hitler aboard continued on toward Malaga, Spain.

Mrs. Gerhardt Eisler Is Given Her Release

NEW YORK, March 12.—(INS)—Mrs. Burnhilde Eisler, 36, wife of the alleged chief communist agent in the United States, has been released on her recognizance from Ellis Island.

Immigration Director W. Frank Watkins explained today that she is not charged with subversive activities as are her husband, Gerhardt, and four other men.

Watkins said Mrs. Eisler is accused of being in this country illegally. She came to the United States in 1941 and has "failed to maintain the status of a visitor."

FAST TIME AT SHARON

SHARON, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—Mayor Myron W. Jones will issue an official proclamation within the next few days concerning daylight saving time for Sharon. City council has approved the "fast time" for 1948.

Complete Treaty Draft For European Western Union

BRUSSELS, March 12.—(INS)—Delegates of five nations completed today the draft of a treaty for establishment of a European western union to combat Communism.

A joint communique was issued by the representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands who drew up the pact for the federation.

The communique said that the draft treaty now will be submitted for the approval of the respective governments.

The announcement explained that the treaty "contains economic, social and cultural clauses, plus clauses relating to mutual assistance within the framework of the United Nations charter."

The communique added that the treaty probably will be signed in Brussels next week by the foreign ministers of the five nations.

Board Of Trade In South Side Installs Officers

Installation of officers took place Thursday evening at a dinner-meeting of the South Side Board of Trade, held in Central Christian church, of Long avenue.

D. O. Davies gave the invocation, followed by serving of a delicious meal by the ladies' auxiliary of the church.

Officers Installed

C. G. Snyder, past president, installed the following new officers: president, William F. DeCarbo; vice president, Maurice Samuels; secretary, Ted Martin; treasurer, John Wajert; board of directors, Hartzell Huston, D. O. Davies, Ivor Davis, Harold Lebo, Maurice Markley, Anthony A. Nocera, C. G. Snyder, Joseph Frenkel, Tony Joseph and Alec Samuels.

President DeCarbo made a few remarks and introduced Carl F. Gangloff, chairman of the Youngstown General Association.

Mr. Gangloff pointed out the projects and ideas his association has been undertaking this past year. He urged the local group to try hard to improve the community.

Seventh Warder Speaks

Manning Weller, president of the Seventh Ward Civic association, spoke of the various facilities the Seventh Ward is trying to improve.

Rev. W. F. Byers Honored At Dinner

Retiring Minister Of Neshannock
Presbyterian Church Feted
At Testimonial

NEW WILMINGTON, March 12.—Rev. W. F. Byers, pastor of Neshannock Presbyterian church, New Wilmington, was honored Thursday evening, when members of his congregation entertained at a testimonial dinner in the church.

A tasty dinner was served by the Temple Builders' class with place settings arranged for 200 guests. Following the singing of the Doxology by the group, Rev. Byers offered the invocation. Dr. Russell Williams served as toastmaster.

Rev. Byers, who is retiring from the ministry, will close his pastoral duties at Neshannock church on Easter Sunday.

Four selections were sung by the Westminster College quartette, composed of Joseph Thompson, Donald David, William McClelland and William Dumbaugh, with Bruce Kier as accompanist.

Dr. Williams introduced Dr. Robert F. Galbreath who paid tribute to Rev. Byers for his contribution to the community and for his fine cooperation with the college. Dr. Galbreath concluded by wishing the honored guest many happy years during his retirement.

A purse of money was presented in behalf of the congregation by Fulton Elder to Rev. Byers who responded graciously.

Special guests, introduced by Dr. Williams, follows: Acting President of Westminster College and Mrs. John Orr; former President of Westminster College and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath; Rev. and Mrs. George Meyers, of New Wilmington Methodist church, and Rev. Robert McDonald of New Wilmington U. P. church. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gilliland, Mr. and Mrs. James Ridge and Mr. and Mrs. William Byers, Jr., children, sons-in-law and daughter-in-law of Rev. Byers, were also special guests.

Dr. Orr gave the benediction.

Five More Czech Envoys Resign

BUENOS AIRES, March (INS)—Five more diplomats added their names today to the growing list of Czechoslovak officials who have quit their posts in protest against the Communist regime in Prague.

All were representatives of the Czech government in Argentina, and included Valdimir Suchan, counsellor of the embassy in Buenos Aires.

In a joint announcement they said they were resigning "in view of tragic happenings in our country, especially the death of Masaryk."

Prague's minister to Buenos Aires is Alexander Kunosi, a militant Communist.

Young Love Gets 'Go-Ahead' Sign By Psychologist

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., 12.—(INS)—Young love had a "go-ahead" signal today from Psychologist Dorothy T. Spoerl.

She told a student audience at American International college:

"There is nothing as good and wholesome as good clean necking. Go out and do it all you want to."

The psychologist warned, however, against "going off in the woods to be alone with temptation—just be careful where and when you do it."

"Don't become so involved in kissing that you neglect to learn each other's common likes and dislikes, nor arrive at the altar knowing only that your spouse-to-be is a facile necker."

Missing Plane Being Hunted

(BULLETIN)

FRANKFURT, March 12.—(INS)—United States military authorities reported in Frankfurt today that a U. S. C-46 commercial plane is missing en route from Switzerland to Italy.

They said that 40 American planes from bases in the U. S. occupation zone in Germany were searching the French and Swiss Alps for the missing craft—so far without success.

The number of persons aboard the plane has not been reported.

Capt. H. W. Green Elected Head Of Reserve Officers

Other Officers Named At Meeting
Of County Chapter Thursday Night

Captain Herman W. Green was elected president of the Lawrence County Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association for the coming year at the regular monthly meeting held in The Castleton hotel Thursday night. Captain Walter K. Conover was elected to serve as vice president, and Captain Robert Young as secretary-treasurer.

Major Waldron Curley, past president, presented a review of the year's activities and emphasized the fact that in less than two years the organization has grown from a small group until now it is one of the most active veteran's organizations in the county. Lieutenant James Rote, retiring secretary-treasurer, presented the financial report for the year.

The state convention of the R.O.A. is to be held in Washington, Pa. in April. Major Curley and Captain Harry Davis were appointed delegates to the convention.

Captain James Frew presented a report on the possibilities of obtaining a club room for the chapter. It is planned that in the near future suitable quarters for a club room will be obtained. Refreshments and entertainment followed the business meeting.

Teller In Bank At Steubenville Faces Charges

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 12.—(INS)—Howard L. Wickersham, 35, a teller at the National Exchange Bank and Trust Co., Steubenville, was bound over to the Federal grand jury on charges of embezzling $30,236 in bank funds.

Wickersham, who lives at Weirton, W. Va., waived preliminary hearing before the U. S. commissioner. His bond was set at $5,000, and he was remanded to the federal jail at Cadiz, O.

FBI agents arrested the teller on violation of the federal reserve act.

Thousands In Crowd Viewing Masaryk's Body

Great Public Homage Is Paid To Late Czech Foreign Minister

MASARYK'S BODY LIES IN STATE

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PRAGUE, March 12.—The great public homage ever paid to an individual in Czechoslovakia's history was accorded today to late Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk.

Men, women and children lined up four abreast the length of 25 city blocks to view the body of the statesman who, they have been officially informed, committed suicide Tuesday.

Body Lies In State

Masaryk's body lies in state in Cernin palace, the foreign office headquarters, in preparation for a state funeral tomorrow.

This spontaneous public demonstration came as new evidence was brought to light that Masaryk may have committed suicide in protest against ruthless communist domination of his country.

Thousands poured through the streets of Prague to show their affection for the son of the founder of the republic whose ideals have now been discarded.

Prepare For Outbreaks

There were strong indications that the government is preparing precautionary power measures against outbreaks by democratic forces.

Strong forces of security police were brought into the city from the country, and it is expected also that troops may be brought in.

The security forces patrol the streets in pairs. They are virtually military police, formidable looking, equipped with Sam Brown belts, sidearms and long khaki great coats.

The long, meandering line of common people went up the narrow street that mounts the steep hill to the front of the palace, and through the main entrance where the body of Masaryk lay in state.

All residents of Prague testified that the crowd far exceeded that which attended the ceremony preceding the funeral of the late Thomas Masaryk, father of the dead man.

Sex Slayer Must Pay With Life In Columbus Prison

CLEVELAND, March 12.—(INS)—Harold A. Beach must pay with his life for the sex slaying of eight-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley New Year's night in Cleveland.

That was the verdict returned by a jury of seven women and five men last night after a two weeks' trial of the ex-convict, who will be 23 years old tomorrow.

Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge Samuel H. Silbert deferred sentencing Beach until Tuesday.

Under Ohio law, the killer cannot be executed before June 19, which comes after a required 100 days.

Dying Gasp Of Winter Severe One

Temperature Drops To Seven Below
Zero Here In Unexpected
Cold Wave Following Snow

Winter, making a dying gasp before giving way to spring, brought one of the coldest snaps of the season during the night, with a total of four inches of snow adding to the misery of the occasion. The temperature dropped to seven below zero here during the night, the official records show.

During the day yesterday, the mercury got up to 27 degrees, and with the sun shining brightly, the snow melted in open places, which promptly froze when the sun went down, making streets and highways treacherous.

Two inches of snow fell during the day, in addition to the two and a half inches reported early Thursday morning, making a total of four and a half inches for the fall.

State Employees Get Paid Early

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—Approximately 60,000 state employees throughout the commonwealth today received their semi-monthly pay checks three days ahead of schedule.

State officials explained the early payments were made to allow employees to meet the March 15 income tax deadline.

Ordinarily state workers would be paid on the 15th.

Prospects Appear Dim For Palestine Accord

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 12.—(INS)—Prospects for a big-power accord on Palestine were dim today as Russia, the United States, France and China prepared to try once again for agreement.

Russian-American unity on the Holy Land question, which succeeded in forcing the partition plan through the United Nations last fall, was breached decisively yesterday when Russia's Andrei Gromyko charged the U. S. with winking on the decision.

The delegates meet in the mid-Manhattan offices of the French delegation to the U. N. today with the U. S. still determined to seek another solution than partition.

American delegate Warren Austin prepared to persist in his efforts to try for Arab-Jewish reconciliation despite strong statements by both Arabs and Jews that such attempts are futile.

Gromyko yesterday charged Austin with stalling and threatened to walk out of the conference unless it got down to a discussion of how to implement the partition scheme.

Then the Russians poured oil on the burning waters and further inflamed feelings. Soviet delegate A. A. Arutunian charged "oil interests" with dictating American policy on Palestine.

As a result, observers predict that there will be two separate reports made to the Security Council Monday by the Big Four powers. Such a split might doom the partition plan.

Boston University Head Assails Radio Programs

BOSTON, Mar. 12.—(INS)—Two of radio's chief attractions—soap operas and crime thrillers—were blasted today by President Daniel B. Marsh of Boston University.

In crowded Symphony Hall at the opening of the university's Fifth Annual Founders' Day institute, Dr. Marsh awarded honorary degrees to ten men of international prominence.

Included among the recipients were two motion picture executives, two news editors, and a radio executive.

Then in his address on "Public Relations, a New Profession," Dr. Marsh opened fire on "so-called radio dramatic programs" which "excel more in piddling twaddle than in anything of worth." His listeners thought he was aiming at popular "soap operas."

Dr. Marsh also called for a new set of radio script writers and said some programs are positively bad, scaring the souls of children with "corrosive murder sketches."

The B. U. head also criticized the "too common practice of ghost-writing speeches and messages as 'disheveled' and 'a law compelling public officials to tell who wrote them.'"

Kane Report Is 16 Below Zero

KANE, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—There was no doubt today in Kane—"The Icebox of Pennsylvania"—that Old Man Winter was still around.

The temperature at Kane this morning dipped to a frigid 16 degrees below zero.

A snow storm during the night left six inches of snow on the ground.

Anti-Communist Purge Continues In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE, March 12.—(INS)—Expulsion of seven more anti-communist members of the Social Democratic party was announced today by the Czech news agency.

The ousters are in accordance with the purge instigated by the communist regime against rightist elements in Czechoslovakia.

Announcement meanwhile of the suicide in a prison cell of a former leader of the Czech National Socialist party was taken as an indication that arrests of persons affected by the purge are more extensive than has been realized.

Officials said that Joseph Herod, former secretary general of the party in Moravia had committed suicide in jail at Ostrava, in northern Moravia.

Statement Made On 'Death Bed' Twice Barred

PITTSBURGH, March 12.—(INS)—Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, defending night club owner Charles Peyton, 51, who is charged with murdering his wife, succeeded twice today in barring testimony concerning the "death bed" statement of the dead woman.

This is the statement in which Mrs. Peyton, who died following a shooting in Peyton's Steubenville Pike night club last June 26, allegedly said her husband shot her intentionally.

AUDINO WITHDRAWS

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—The state elections bureau reported the withdrawals today of four candidates for Congress.

Among them was Ralph Audino, of New Castle, Democrat, 25th district.

Monday will be the last day for candidates to withdraw from the primary election ballot.

Record Cold Wave Strikes Eastern Areas Of Nation

Unseasonably Cold March Weather Is Reported In Eastern U. S. This Morning

ZERO TEMPERATURE IN SEVERAL AREAS

(By International News Service)

The greater part of the United States east of the Rockies still shivered today in the most unseasonably cold March weather in history.

Snow and ice conditions prevailed in many parts of the country, although it appeared the northeastern area had escaped the brunt of the storms harassed the midwest yesterday and Wednesday night.

In Chicago, the temperature was 4 degrees above zero this morning, breaking the record of 6 degrees set on March 12, 1896.

Weather forecaster H. S. Kenny predicted, that the cold spell will break later in the day, with a high of 20 degrees expected. Eight inches of snow fell in the Chicago area yesterday.

Coldest In History

The mercury in St. Louis was 7 degrees above zero—the coldest March 12 in the city's history. But warmer weather also was forecast for St. Louis, with a rise to 30 degrees above zero expected.

Clear skies prevailed over the Rocky Mountain region. Cold weather still prevailed in Colorado, with 28 degrees below zero reported at Fort Collins, Colo. It was 10 above in Denver last night.

Michigan reported cold weather ranging from 8 below zero to slightly above. Warmer weather was predicted for tomorrow.

In Middle West Also

The cold wave gripped Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska and Texas.

Garden City, Kan., had a low of 12 below; Oklahoma reported temperatures of 3 below breaking all March records.

Schools remained closed in several states.

Escape Serious Injury In Thursday Afternoon Crash; Sharon
Fireman Fatally Hurt

GREENVILLE, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—Thirty-two boys of St. Joseph's Parochial School were alive today by the narrowest of margins.

Thursday, the canvas covered squad car of the Sharon Volunteer Fire Department, in which the youngsters were riding, skidded on the snow and crashed into the driveway of a slow moving Pennsylvania freight locomotive.

Assistant Fire Chief Elmer Reiter, of Sharon, suffered fractured skull which resulted in his death today.

The only other person hospitalized was Reiter's eight-year-old son, Thomas. He has a badly cut right eye and a possible fractured pelvis.

Other passengers received cuts and bruises.

Governor Folsom Seeks Presidency

Alabama Governor Starts Early Kissing Babies, Grown Up Ones

NEW YORK, March 12.—(INS)—Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama says he is receptive to a presidential nomination.

The six-foot, eight-inch chief executive, who is on his way to Washington today after kissing a bevy of beautiful models in New York, told reporters that "if nominated as a favorite son, like any good American" he will campaign strenuously.

He refused to comment specifically on President Truman's political programs, the Southern governor asserted his objections to "the present administration" were sharp.

Tagged the "Nation's No. 1 Leap Year Bachelor," Folsom spent several hours yesterday posing with luscious models—all of whom paid him lip-service.

Arthur Mometer

I've been amazed at a number of things, in places I've been now and then, wonders of nature, political life, and the marvels of modern men. I've marvelled at mountains at twilight time, and the sea on a stormy night, but the thing that amazes me constantly is a growing boy's appetite. His stomach must be most resilient to hold all the things he eats, puddings and icees and jelly tarts, ice cream, candy and meats. He shoves them away with the greatest aplomb, not fussy as long as his food, would be have some more of that cherry pie, well you know darn well that he would. I nibble a bit but he's hardly begun, when I push my plate away, an amazing thing, but a glorious one, it's 30 today.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather station for the 24-hour period ending at nine a. m. today follows:

Maximum temperature, 27.
Minimum temperature, 7 below zero.

Precipitation, .20 inches, two inches snow.

River stage, 5.3 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:

Maximum temperature, 45.
Minimum temperature, 18.
Precipitation, traces.

Taft Opposes Military Aid In Recovery

By WILLIAM THIES
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, GOP policy chief, voiced the "hope" today that House Republicans would reverse their decision to include military aid for China, Greece and Turkey in the European recovery bill.

Taft's statement was made following a Senate Republican policy committee meeting at which the leadership laid down a schedule of legislation to follow this week's expected Senate passage of the ERP bill without military assistance.

Siding with Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., foreign relations chairman who vigorously opposed the "single package" proposals, Taft said:

"I hope the House will not put military aid in the bill."

Vandenberg's committee will begin hearings on military aid next week. Taft said that in the final analysis the House plan "wouldn't make much difference" because the Senate itself will be considering military assistance in separate legislation.

Taft announced that the Senate will take up its military assistance bill after it disposes of the tax reduction bill.

Meanwhile, backers of a one billion 500 million dollar cut in the ERP bill conceded defeat in advance on the crucial vote on their proposed reduction.

VALIENS IMPROVING
David D. Valiens, of 411 N. Jefferson street, who has been a patient in the New Castle hospital for several days, is showing a little improvement. As yet, no visitors are permitted, it is stated.

ANTHONY EDEN STRICKEN
LONDON, March 12.—(INS)—Former Foreign Minister Anthony Eden was taken to a hospital today, suffering from appendicitis.

It is supposed that Richard, the Lion-Hearted, originated the custom of tarring and feathering. One of his laws for his fleet was: "A robber who shall be convicted of theft shall have his head cropped, and boiling pitch shall be poured thereon, and then the feathers of a cushion shall be shaken out upon, so that he may be known, and at first land at which the ship shall touch he shall be set on shore."

eral Texas cities as utility companies conserve fuel supplies for residential heating.

Fair skies and warmer temperatures were forecast for the whole area for today.

Indiana had its coldest March 12 since 1908 and the heaviest March snowfall since 1924. Marion registered the coldest temperature, 8 below. Warmer weather was predicted for tomorrow.

Cleveland, O., reported a reading of 5 below at 4 a. m., a new March cold record. The city also suffered the season's worst snowstorm, 6.6 inches. One Cleveland died from over-exertion shoveling snow. Ohio temperatures ranged from 18 below at Findlay to 16 above at Chesapeake.

In Cincinnati, sleet added to the hazards of driving.

Heavy Snow
Low temperatures and biting winds punished Pennsylvania yesterday, western Pennsylvania reported zero and below this morning.

Philadelphia suffered from a freezing rain, with a temperature around 20 degrees above zero reported.

Upstate New York was digging out of 6 to 8 inches of snow. New York City itself was cold and windy, with the temperature in the upper 20's. Also there were severe ice conditions due to sleet and a freezing rain of late Thursday.

A moderate snowfall, adding to a large accumulation of snow from previous storms, crippled New England transportation during the night. Three deaths were reported and driving was hazardous. The storm left 3 to 7 inches of snow in the six-state area.

In the southwest, below-freezing weather was expected to cause extensive damage to the Texas fruit, citrus and tomato crops.

On the Pacific coast, rain was forecast for northern California. The rain was expected to bring some relief to the drought areas.

Anti-Horse Thief Group To Banquet

LEATHERWOOD, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—The Leatherwood Anti-Horse Thief Association was still thriving today, as the organization announced it will hold a banquet in June.

Founded in 1868, the association is one of the last chartered organizations of its kind in Pennsylvania.

Ed. V. McNutt, of Clarion, Pa., vice-president, said that some of the new members of the group included such dignitaries as Clarion county Judge John M. Meyers, District Attorney W. P. Geary, Sheriff A. R. Hanold, Prothonotary Arthur Gillinger and County Commissioners W. A. Walter and George S. Seigworth.

McNutt is the fifth generation of his family to belong to the association.

Life In College Is Like A Circus Educator Stated

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—College life today is just "a three-ring circus", according to Dr. Wray H. Congdon, director of admissions at Lehigh university.

There are all sorts of excitement going on to distract students from the main purpose—getting an education—Dr. Congdon says.

In a booklet entitled "Brains Aren't Everything", Dr. Congdon tells prospective students "if you don't have a ready smile anywhere handy in your baggage, I earnestly suggest that you grow a good broad one before you hit the college campus."

2. A change in the policy toward China which does not now favor the inclusion of Communists in the central government, although it does favor broadening the base of the national regime to include "liberal" elements of the Chinese.

Mr. Truman's comment on world affairs came at a news conference. It was touched off by a question referring to a recent statement that he was optimistic about the future of world peace.

Still Believe Peace Possible
The chief executive then admitted that recent events, including the death of Jan Masaryk, had somewhat shaken his faith. He added quickly, however, that he still believes it possible to achieve a lasting peace.

In response to further questions he said he believed the Truman doctrine has been a success so far and that he regarded it as a forerunner to the European recovery program.

Thus far no direct evidence has been unearthed of Soviet intervention in the Czechoslovak coup. Observers believed that it was for this reason that the United States has not yet accepted the Communist declaration that Masaryk's death was suicide. Mr. Truman indicated adherence to this position when, after expressing regret at Masaryk's death as an old friend, he declined to make any formal comment on the subject.

Parents Blamed For Youthful Criminals

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—(INS)—Greatest single cause of juvenile delinquency, according to Fred Tienken, El Paso county probation officer, is not "broken homes" but indifferent parents.

Tienken said more boys than girls become juvenile offenders, and the trouble usually comes when the lads are between the ages of 12 and 16.

Tienken says girls are involved in only about one out of every ten cases.

List Delinquency Causes
He listed other causes of delinquency as financial difficulties especially in large families, and "discrimination"—parents who shower attention on one child and neglect or ignore the others.

Tienken asserted, however, that there are almost no causes of de-

OFFER ASSISTANCE TO BLIND VETERANS
PHILADELPHIA.—(INS)—Dr. Paul B. Magnuson announced recently that blind veterans, who have been issued equipment by the Veterans Administration to aid them in overcoming their handicap, may now obtain minor repairs to this equipment without prior V.A. approval.

Approximately 6,400 blind veterans are eligible for the new service. They are receiving V. A. prosthetic service cards, similar to those used by amputees to obtain immediate minor repairs to their artificial limbs.

By presenting their cards to any repair shop in any section of the country, blind veterans will receive, without delay, repair service up to a limit of $20.

Anderson Undecided On Senate Candidacy

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today wouldn't say "yes" and wouldn't say "no" on whether he would run for the Senate in New Mexico.

Anderson received an expression of hope from President Truman that he would remain in the cabinet rather than enter the senatorial race.

Still Undecided
The secretary told reporters after a cabinet meeting he did not know what he will do.

After his talk with the President Anderson said:

"I haven't made up my mind. Certainly I am not going to be in any hurry to leave the cabinet. I'll definitely stay in the cabinet until the present session of Congress recesses."

SEMPER FIDELIS

IS ENTERTAINED

Semper Fidelis club members were graciously entertained by Mrs. Carl Tranquillo Thursday evening, the meeting being held in the New Penn hotel.

Cards of 500 and contests were in play, prizes for high scores going to Mrs. Anthony Scarazzo and Mrs. H. A. Fazzone. The club token was won by Mrs. Anthony Mastrian.

A dainty lunch was served later. Special guests were Mrs. Anthony Marino and Mrs. Andy Tomello, and they received gifts.

April 8 is the meeting with Mrs. Lucy Lemer, Cascade street.

LADIES OF KIWANIS

LUNCHEON MARCH 17

Ladies of Kiwanis will meet for their March luncheon in The Castleton on Wednesday, March 17, at 1:15 o'clock with Mrs. Thomas G. Allen, Mrs. Kenneth H. Beck, Mrs. Louise Berkheimer, and Mrs. Clarence England as hostesses.

Program planned for the afternoon will feature Lawrence Firster, magician.

A. G. Club Gathers
Mrs. Charles Micco was hostess to the A. G. club Thursday evening, when a theatre party was enjoyed. Later the group went to a downtown tea room, where lunch was served.

Mrs. Thomas Fair was remembered with a birthday gift from the club. Mrs. Kirk Lorenzo captured the club token.

Mrs. Kirk Lorenzo, 322 Locust street, will entertain in two weeks.

Society and CLUBS

WEDDING PLANS FOR MARCH 14 REVEALED

The wedding of Miss Valente Kolunie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kolunie, of 349 Shaw street, and Peter Yankush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yankush, of 67 Woodbine avenue, Youngstown, O., will be solemnized at an open church ceremony in St. George Greek Orthodox church at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 14. Rev. Anastasios Patrikos is to officiate assisted by Rev. Papageorge, of Youngstown.

Dinner and a dance for 250 guests in The Castleton will supplement the ceremony.

Miss Kolunie has asked her cousin, Miss Mildred Kolunie to be her maid of honor and the Misses Lucetta Kostanes, Winifred Kisthart, and Alice Costas, of Camden, N. J., to be bridesmaids.

Her fiancé will have Nick Costas, of Youngstown, as best man and John Kolunie and George Anderson, of New Castle, and George Filiosos, of Youngstown, as ushers.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB HAS BRIDGE

Junior Woman's club was entertained in the home of Mrs. Thomas C. Hawkins, Edgewood Acres, Thursday evening for a business meeting and bridge, with Mrs. A. D. Patterson as co-hostess.

Six tables of bridge were in play during the latter part of the evening and high score honors went to Mrs. George Stitzinger and the gallop to Mrs. William Olson.

A lunch was served at the close of play.

During business, with Mrs. Russell Remaley presiding, there was a report for the special project committee by Mrs. James A. Bickett and one on a current project by Miss Mary Brennenman, ways and means chairman.

It was decided that the current project will close March 18 instead of March 25 to coincide with the club's next meeting in the form of a twelve dinner in the home of Mrs. Robert Jamison, 222 West Sheridan avenue.

OAKWOOD GARDEN CLUB ENTERTAINED

Arrangements of daffodils and other spring flowers placed around the living room formed the setting for the March program of Oakwood Garden club when it met Thursday evening in the home of Miss Pearl Atkinson, Youngstown road.

To open the meeting Mrs. Wiley Cooper read Emily Dickinson's poem, "Winter Song".

Highlighting the program was a review of a new book, "The Lazy Gardener", given by Mrs. Milton A. Pattison.

"A Hobby That Pays Off", saving weed seeds, was the subject of an interesting paper by Miss Estella Hoyer.

Roll call answer was "Some new plant or flower seed introduced this year". A guessing contest as an additional feature of entertainment, was won by Mrs. G. S. Jenkins, whose prize was a bowl of spring flowers.

Mrs. R. R. Peden gave a report of the March meeting of Garden Council, and Mrs. Wiley Cooper one on the Cleveland flower show.

Annual spring flower show of the council will take place in Trinity guild room in May. Mrs. J. H. Moore told members, urging each one to submit entries.

Later delicious refreshments suggestive of the Easter season were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper.

Next meeting will be Thursday, April 8, in the home of Mrs. Julia Miller, Grandview avenue, with Mrs. R. M. Hay as associate hostess.

SPEAKER ADDRESSES

STEPHENSON CIRCLE

Stephenson circle of the First Methodist church was entertained Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. J. A. Gaiser, 406 Clennore boulevard, when with a good attendance present and Mrs. W. L. Beal presiding, members heard as speaker Mrs. J. F. Rentz, president of the district Women's Society of Christian Service, who talked on "Projects of the W.S.C.S."

Devotional period was led by Mrs. John Black.

Of special interest to the group was a letter from Miss Mary Anderson, missionary in Adlers.

After business, Mrs. H. C. Campbell and her group, Mrs. W. A. Womer, Mrs. E. C. Chapman, Mrs. Phoebe Patton, and Miss Kate Stockman invited guests to the dining room where tea was served from a table decorated in St. Patrick motifs with Mrs. H. C. Weaver pouring.

Next meeting will be April 8, the place to be announced.

QUEEN ESTHERS

TO HAVE BANQUET

Members of the Queen Esther class of Third U. P. church will have their yearly banquet Tuesday evening, March 16, at 6:30 o'clock in the church dining room.

Mrs. J. J. Kenenah, Miss Mabel Kocher, and Mrs. William Mooney compose the dinner committee.

Mrs. Findley Boyd is in charge of reservations. Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. Elmer Johnson and Mrs. Thomas Baskfield will be responsible for decorations.

New '48 Club

Newly organized '48 club met in the home of Mrs. Christine Panella, 111 East Home street, on a recent evening. Officers were elected and later a St. Patrick's lunch was served with Mrs. Vida Sforza aiding the hostess.

The club will meet next on March 31 in the home of Mrs. Mary Colalucia, Cascade street.

TRINITY AUXILIARY ELECTION REVIEW

Regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal church took place in the guild hall of the church following service of Holy Eucharist at 10 a. m.

During the morning the group sewed on vestments and at 12:30 luncheon was served with Mrs. C. E. Lyle and Mrs. Emrys Lewis in charge.

After luncheon, during business, with Mrs. Howard Kley presiding, election of officers took place, as follows: president, Mrs. E. L. Daventport; first vice president, Mrs. John A. Byers; second vice president, Mrs. Harry Bowen; secretary, Mrs. Harry Cullford; treasurer, Mrs. Wayne Porter.

At the conclusion of business, the group heard a very fine review of the first five chapters of the study book, "Committed Unto Us" by Dr. LaMott given by Mrs. L. F. Royston.

It was announced that the remaining chapters will be reviewed by Mrs. John A. Byers at the next monthly meeting on April 8, when luncheon arrangements will be in charge of Mrs. Wayne Porter and Mrs. Thomas Clarke.

Regular weekly sewing will follow the 10 a. m. communion service on Thursday, March 18.

TIFEREH GROUP

PURIM MEETING

For their regular monthly meeting members of Tifereth Israel Sisterhood met in the synagogue Tuesday evening with Mrs. Samuel Levin presiding.

Singing of "America" with Mrs. M. Slavovskiy at the piano opened the meeting followed by Purim prayer by Mrs. A. Simon. Reports of officers and committee chairmen followed.

An S.O.S. appeal was made by Mrs. Levin for canned goods and clothing to be sent to the needy in Europe. Mrs. Gus Slavovskiy was named nominating chairman.

It was announced that the Purim play by the Sunday school will be given March 21 in the synagogue.

As a prelude to an auction of baked goods, Mrs. G. Slavovskiy gave a humorous reading entitled "Mother's Cooking". Afterward Mrs. Charles Maierman and Mrs. M. Slavovskiy conducted the auction.

Hostesses and donors were the Mesdames Joseph Moresky, Edward Haim, Eph Solomon, Gilbert Levine, L. Goldman, Ted Marlin, Morrie Becker, Sam Wolfe, Hyman Kulkin and H. Goldman.

Refreshments served from a table formed in a large L brought the evening to a close.

CLAUDE LINTON HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Linton, 10 East Laurel avenue, were pleasing hosts on Thursday evening to members of the Johnson-Powell Bible class of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street.

The members gathered in the home, following the special services being conducted in the church.

Following a time of prayer, the class president, Harold Dangerfield, conducted the business period, with summer sport activities being thoroughly discussed, along with a visitation program. Rev. W. H. Brand, evangelist, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, was present and gave a short address on "Personal Evangelism" as a part of the devotional program.

The hostess, Mrs. Linton, served a delicious spaghetti supper to the members.

HAYES-HARRIS

WEDDING TOLD

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Edys Jane Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hayes, of Bessemer, and James R. Harris, son of Mrs. Clive Harris, of Woodbury, Tennessee, on February 21 in Nashville, Tenn.

Nuptial vows were exchanged in the study of Rev. H. M. Ditmore at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Miss Leoda Johnson, and John H. Jones.

Mrs. Harris is a registered nurse and is in the office of Dr. C. Hollabaugh. Mr. Harris is affiliated with the Thayer Veteran Hospital in Nashville.

The couple have taken up residence at 516 Nall avenue, Nashville.

ROUND-UP CLUB

PLANNING PARTY

A St. Patrick's Day party was planned by Round-Up club members when they gathered in the club rooms Thursday evening with Mrs. William Russo in charge. The party will start at 8 p. m. Wednesday, March 17.

Card playing was the pastime, Mrs. A. J. Capzio capturing the prize. The birthday of Mrs. Carl Richards was honored, and she received a secret gift. A cake was also presented.

A dainty lunch was later served by Mrs. Angelo Colella, Mrs. Nick Tusciano, Mrs. William Russo, Mrs. Sam Bullano and Sue Gennock.

Thursday, April 8, is the next meeting. Mrs. John George and team in charge.

Amity Club

Mrs. Paul Patton, 511 Blaine street, received the Amity club Thursday evening in her home.

Tables of bridge were in play, high score prizes going to Mrs. Don Chisafello, Mrs. Joseph Sparr and Ida Casacchia.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess with the St. Patrick's Day theme predominating.

The birthday of Miss Florence Carney was also honored at this time, and she received a lovely birthday gift.

April 1 is the meeting with Miss Ida Casacchia, 311 East Luton street.

MARTYRDOM FOR MASARYK

It is too early yet to know whether Jan Masaryk, the Czechoslovakian statesman was a plot victim or was a suicide. Looking at his record of statesmanship for the Czech cause one could only explain suicide by assuming a temporary loss of reason due to overwhelming sorrow at the fate of this country.

It is not for us, as yet, to say that he was the victim of the Soviet hatchetmen but one cannot help but think that he met death at other than his own hands.

If he was a victim of the agents of the Soviet it may well be that the Soviets have done the very thing necessary to guarantee the eventual freedom of Czechoslovakia. For there is no surer way to guarantee success of a movement than to martyr the leader.

Jan Masaryk was a worthy son of a worthy father. His father might well be called the father of Czechoslovakian Democracy. The plan of government for the Czechs was known as the "Pittsburgh" plan for it was in the City of Pittsburgh that the Czech plan was born shortly after World War one.

Time alone will tell what the death of Jan Masaryk will mean in Czechoslovakia. If he has been murdered, he has been martyred and the blood of the martyrs has always been more powerful than bullets.

RECOVERY PROGRESS

As a result of surveys made in world capitals, the United States News-World Report concludes that recovery is beginning to take hold everywhere. This confirms what newspaper reporters are writing.

Industrial production, for example, is already above that of prewar years in most of Western Europe and the Marshall Plan is expected to lift the levels substantially higher. In that event the magazine fears that the world will have to face the problem "of a vast surplus of goods."

Industrial production is not the only test of a country's recovery, but it has the virtue of being subject to exact measurement. And, in the present state of affairs, it bulks largest in every country's economy. What people need is goods of one kind or another.

Unless they get them depression and discontent are the rule. If they get them prosperity is either at hand or on the way.

So the latest figures on industrial activity do have unusual significance. They show that Norway, Denmark, Sweden and The Netherlands are all producing more today than before the war. France is just under that norm but gaining. Belgium and Italy are considerably lower but in these instances also improvement is being shown. Only areas that are really depressed are Austria, Japan and the British-American zone of Germany.

Insofar as Germany is concerned General Clay reports that the worst is over in that zone and that henceforth the movement will be upward. It is apparent that Western Europe is doing something to help itself despite all the sprags the Russians have been inserting in the wheels.

LATER THAN MUNICH

The nations of Western Europe, since the blackout of Czechoslovakia, are showing they know what time it is: It is later than Munich. Already they have begun to unite—as they never did against Hitler—to be ready to stop Russia or to fight her.

Two conferences which have already reached the "agreement in principle" stage show this new determination. The same five nations took part in both. Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg met in Brussels and decided on a treaty of common defense and military strategy and economic coordination.

This treaty may become the nucleus of a Western union that would be strong enough to stand up to the united communist bloc.

Meanwhile, in London, the same powers were meeting with the United States to discuss Germany and the Ruhr. In this conference, Ambassador Douglas reports, more progress is made in 10 days than in the preceding three years.

That is true, and there are two reasons for it. First, these were conferences without Russia. Second, they were held by nations feeling a new sense of urgency—a determination to stand together against the common danger.

So the virus of fear which Russia has used so effectively is beginning to engender its own antidote. And these five-power agreements are only the beginning. A House subcommittee under Rep. John C. Kunkel of Pennsylvania has just urged a military defense pact for all Europe as well as greater economic union.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The blackest depression and utter hopelessness must have been responsible for Jan Masaryk's suicide—if indeed he did take his own life.

For from his earliest years he had been taught that self-destruction was the product of a mental confusion alien to men of strength and will and that is a weak person's way out of difficulties that merely appear insurmountable.

The teacher was his own father.

Writer Of Great Talent
The late Thomas Carrique Masaryk was not only one of the greatest writers of modern times and the founder of Czechoslovakia. He was a writer of great talent and a great philosopher.

One of his earliest books was called "Suicide as a phenomenon of modern civilization." In the same manner as in a later scholarly book on hypnosis and other little-known subjects, he dissected with a keen literary hand the cause of suicide and its prevention.

His only son must have heard many times from his father's own lips the fact that most normal human beings are prey to fits of depression and that impenetrable mental wall is essential to prevent those from deteriorating into a desire for death.

Triumph Over Adversity
The elder Masaryk himself was a glistering example of triumph over adversity.

Masaryk felt that he could compromise with the Communists—the modern enemies of democracy. Thomas Masaryk never thought of the word compromise in relations with his enemies—the pompous though down-at-heel and tottering remnants of Imperial Austria-Hungarian glory. The old man virtually called the royal family a gang of forgers and proved his case in open court.

The world may never know the full details of Jan Masaryk's last days as he saw Czechoslovakia gulped down by Communist forces.

Bachelor—Lived Alone
He was a bachelor and lived alone. He had an only sister, the aged Alice Masaryk, but she was not with him in the last days and if he left letters describing the circumstances that compelled him

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PATHETIC FAMILY SITUATION

I often wonder what it must mean to the youth who tries to be gracious to his or her mother's "boy friend" and to his or her father's "girl friend" while the parents are still married.

A teenage daughter writes to say she is all mixed up over the matter. She likes her father's "girl friend" (about her own age) but is not quite sure how she should act toward this girl when she is at her home with her father and the wife (and mother) is out with her "boy friend." The daughter also wanted to know if she should tell her mother everything she knows about her daddy's "affairs" and her daddy everything she knows about her mother's "affairs."

Pathetic Child
While I advised her she had better not discuss the scandalous ways of either parent with the other, I could not under the circumstances, give this pathetic child much positive advice with assurance, except to suggest that she might through her persuasive love for both parents, win them to try to be faithful, letting them know what a difficult time she herself was having over the matter.

In this type of case, where both parents were having affairs and out in the open, the confusion to the child must be immeasurable, though not always more serious, perhaps, than when only one parent is the transgressor. What are the chances for such a youth to work out a wholesome love life of her own or to build a secure family life of her own? And what of the children's children?

Own Business
Of course, one or both parents may assume that it is their own business. But in their reasoning which rarely has reason it, they may have wholly overlooked the rights of the child or children and the confusion, anxiety and heartaches heaped on them.

Though, fortunately, the divorce rate is far lower where there are children than where there are none, the case we have cited must be typical of many thousands.

In the 30 largest cities in the United States the average now is nearly one divorce to two marriages, and for the entire nation, almost one divorce for three marriages. In several cities divorces have already overtaken or outstripped marriages.

We hear and read so much about the need of emotional security in the home. Indeed, most that parents read or hear on this matter gives the impression that if you cuddle and fondle the infant a-plenty—and the extremists would say, never let him cry or have to wait for anything he wants—security is guaranteed. At best this is but a drop in the bucket.

Teen-Ager
We have been considering a child in her teens. What of the child 12, 9, 6? To any of them there is the confusion over the matter of deceit he sees in action. Besides, he innocently becomes a party to it. Oh, how he must be mixed up. How uncertain and insecure he must feel. Yet what he really needs for his best mental health and happiness and for his best mental, social and moral development is a constant feeling of "all is well."

Ours is not to scold parents who are not companionable, faithful, or who even finally separate. We merely are asking them to consider the rights and welfare of the child. We don't believe he usually is given due consideration. Do you?

to his act they have been destroyed. Masaryk's passing caused grief and consternation throughout Europe, where he was one of the best-known figures in diplomatic circles.

Intensely popular and full of humor, he reflected much of his father's granite. But he was more worldly and sophisticated than the one-time coachman and Czechoslovakia who created Czechoslovakia.

Still, those who knew him would have said that suicide was the most distant of his thoughts. The pressure must have been great indeed for him to forget his father's teaching.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Here's one for the book.
The Chicago police are still scratching their heads about it, but I bet the Internal Revenue folks will soon tell them what's what.

A certain fellow, the name doesn't matter, aroused the suspicion of saloonkeepers, because he hit the jackpot every time he played one of their slot machines.

So finally they caught him fooling around the back of one of the machines and had him arrested. But the police didn't know what to do with him and had to let him go because he gave a perfectly plausible explanation of his operation.

"I get somebody to go with me," he told them, "and while he plays the machine I go around in back and drill a little hole."

"Then I put a wire in the hole and trip the jackpot lever, and all the money comes out. Then I plug up the hole with some wax crayon the same color as the machine, while the other fellow picks up the money and we walk out."

"Next time I go in I just put a wire in the same hole and trip the jackpot lever again. I've been doing it for years."

When the police suggested to him that his operations were against the law, he asked naively, "What law?"

Then he patiently explained to them that a slot machine is illegal in the first place and has no business being there.

Since it is there legally, he told the officers, there can be no law to protect the machine, and so anything he might do with something that isn't legal can't be in violation of any law.

So then, as I told you in the beginning, the officers started to scratch their heads and, for all I know, are still scratching them.

But the fellow in charge of detectives told reporters hopefully that they were investigating the fellow and hoped to be able to hang something else on him.

So far so good.
But that isn't the way the Internal Revenue Bureau feels about it, and don't you go ahead now and get yourself some wire and wax crayon in different colors.

The Internal Revenue people know darn well that gambling and other vices are illegal. But if you don't pay taxes on the illegal revenue you derive from such vices you go to jail, anyway.

Not that the Internal Revenue people are not perfectly law-abiding folks. But to them no lure is filth as long as it is taxable lure.

So why doesn't the Chicago Police Department find out from the Revenue people whether the jackpot-meddler reported his winnings on his income tax return? If they can't send him to jail in Chicago, there's always Leavenworth.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

The more we think about it the more we are convinced that the people who operate . . . that is those who place and maintain . . . juke boxes in restaurants, bars and so forth . . . are missing a lot of nickels. They have, it's true, made it very easy to spend a nickel to play the music boxes . . . Those little gadgets that are near cash tables are very tempting . . . But the return could be even greater if some one would put up a gadget that would enable a person to buy silence. This is a free country . . . if you are free to put in a nickel so that you can hear your favorite musical number . . . then why isn't the guy next door free to spend a nickel to have a period of silence. Of course there can be many reasons for both sides . . . but it does make for good talk when in March it's more like winter than spring.

Last week we published a wee bit of a poem concerning the school teachers . . . we believe in the teachers and what they stand for . . . and along this thought we have here a poem that seems fitting:

Lord, who am I to teach the way
To little children day by day,
So prone myself to go astray?
I teach them knowledge, but I know
How faint they flicker and how low
The candles of my knowledge glow,
I teach them power and will to do,
But only now to learn anew
My own great weakness through and through,
I teach them low for all mankind
And all God's creatures, but I find
My love comes lagging far behind.
Lord, if their guide I still must be,
Oh, let the little children see
Their teacher leaning hard on Thee.

Wallace Seen As Threat To President's Re-Election

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Democratic high command regards the third party candidacy of Henry A. Wallace as the gravest threat to President Truman's chances for re-election.

Democratic National Chairman Howard McGrath feels that the revolt of the South over Mr. Truman's anti-Jim Crow proposals will blow over. At most, he is convinced, the rebellion will be sufficiently scattered to have little effect on the electoral votes of the South.

However, the staggering Wallace victory in the Bronx, a normally Democratic district, which carried Wallace-backed Leo Isaacson into the House, ended any hope that Wallace can be laughed off.

The announcement by banjo-strumming Senator Glen H. Taylor (D, Idaho), that he will be Wallace's running mate on a "Progressive" ticket also slammed the door in the face of McGrath's appeasement efforts.

The Idaho senator made his announcement less than a week after McGrath had appealed to non-Communist backers of Wallace to return to the party fold.

Indication of the Democratic feeling is McGrath's refusal to do anything about the southern protests against the anti-Jim Crow bills. At the same time he stands ready to welcome Wallace and his followers if they will make face-saving concessions.

The concessions are highly improbable, and the Democrats fear that the Wallace vote might swing

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

A lock of Napoleon's hair sold for $46 in Paris this week . . . There is no current quotation on Vaughn Monroe.

And somebody paid $92 for one of Marie Antoinette's curls. That was reasonable. . . A single light hair on a dark business suit has been known to cost more than that in alimony.

That's a strange thing about women. . . A wife will believe that her husband's hair is falling out but never that he got the one on his shoulder that way.

Men who work in hair mattress factories must either be single or in trouble all the time.

I knew a fellow worked in one and when he came home with a hair on his shoulder, his wife said "You've got a hair on your shoulder." He said "What of it. . . It's just a horse hair."

She said "The horse should have taken the bobby pin off it."

New York and California to the Republicans. These states are most important in a close election.

Because of the recent increase in steel prices, a fight will be made in the Senate to restore to the independent offices appropriation bill an item of $185,000 to enable the Federal Trade Commission to make an investigation of price fixing by industry.

The item was stricken from the billion-dollar bill when it passed the House. It was recommended by President Truman.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D, Wyoming), has announced he will attempt to have the investigating funds restored to the bill in the Senate.

Another effect of the steel price increase will be to revive agitation for an excess profits tax on corporations. It is generally conceded, however, that this will get nowhere.

The hearing by the joint economic committee on steel price increases amounts to little more than explanations by steel executives. The committee has no plans for searching investigations into the matter.

The latest in a line of supersonic airplanes which are gradually pushing aircraft speeds to new, sensational high marks, will be delivered to the United States Air Force in a few months.

It is the Bell XS-2. It has swept-back wings and is made of stainless steel. The XS-1, rocket-propelled "daddy" of sound-speed planes, which, according to an aviation magazine, has already flown faster than the 767-mile-an-hour speed of sound.

The Air Force has never confirmed the magazine article which touched off a federal investigation of security practices.

Planes Nos. 2 and 3 in the series—the Douglas Skytreak and Skyrocket—continue to make high speed flights at the USAF base at Muroc Dry Lake, Cal. The Skytreak holds the official world speed record of 650 miles per hour.

The XS-1 is rocket-propelled, as will be the XS-2. The Douglas craft are jet-propelled.

It was learned recently that the first jet plane to fly was not the highly publicized Italian Caproni-Campini in 1940, but the German Heinkel HE-178, on Aug. 27, 1939—a year before the Caproni.

They Say

WASHINGTON—Sen. Hill (D, Miss. . . . "If southern Democrats bolt the party in protest to President Truman's civil rights program they will insure a GOP victory in November."

PHILADELPHIA—Harold E. Stassen: . . . "The Truman Administration is engaged in economic appeasement of Russia. . . . In 1947, the U. S. exported more vital machinery to the Soviet Union than to France, Italy and Belgium combined. . . . This does not add up."

VATICAN CITY—Pope Pius XII: . . . "The Italian people will commit a grave, mortal sin if they abstain from voting in the Italian election April 18. . . . It is the right and duty to call to the attention of the faithful, the importance of the forthcoming election."

A CLOSE SHAVE
A girl's glory is her hair. It must be on her head though. Girls do not like to have hair on the face or arms.

They try all sorts of schemes to do away with the hair. They burn it off and stone it off. They put chemicals on it and melt it off.

Girls are afraid that shaving will make the hair thicker and darker.

If shaving would do that, there would be no bald heads.

Using a safety razor is a pretty good way to take care of hair which is not wanted.

The Great Debate In Congress

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—During frequent intervals of Army life when no one had done anything to earn his pay, there was a saying: "I'm going to back up to the pay table this month." Perhaps many U. S. senators will have the same decency and avert their faces when collecting wages to cover time consumed in debating the Marshall plan. Anyone in the gallery can testify that not more than half a dozen senators have rendered appreciable service and that hardly 20 senators have even bothered to be regularly present for the discussions.

In this connection I once wrote a novel (out of print) which seems to contain a relevant passage. The hero as a reward for civic virtue was offered a nomination to Congress. Into his mind, as he weighed the opportunity, leaped a boyhood memory of a trip to Capitol Hill. The text reads: "Instead of breathtaking flights of oratory and thunderous applause, there was only a big room full of half of seedy-looking men, some reading newspapers, some chatting, some drowsing while one law-maker was doggedly reciting a speech of which no syllable reached young Alvin's ears although they were hanging well out over the gallery railing. . . . And now the committee wanted to know if he'd care to go to Congress. 'No thanks,' said Alvin, 'I've been'."

Eighteen Years Afterward
Fully 18 years after writing the imaginary scene I found myself in the press gallery looking at the reality which, incredibly enough, will go down in history as the Marshall plan debate. The Senate chamber was certainly less than half filled. The Senator from Georgia had his nose buried in a newspaper. The Senators from Iowa and Kentucky were exchanging chit-chat in the middle aisle. The Senator from Nevada was drowsing through a prepared address which was hardly audible and not at all intelligible from a few feet overhead. He objected when a fellow senator interrupted to lament the number of absentees and the general air of anarchy. "It's all right, I'm getting my address into the record," said the Nevada statesman.

Where were the absentees? Some were at committee meetings which had dragged on into the afternoon. But any reporter knows that it is a rare committee which meets on time in the morning with anything like full attendance. Some had taken off—this was Friday—for a long week-end. Some were meeting to talk politics. Some were looking after business interests which might not or might—as in the case of shipping companies, wheat growers and steel mongers—be affected by the Marshall plan. And others, it is a safe bet, were absent for the same reason that the office boy goes down to the corner for a Coke when the boss is not looking.

Some Dreary Comments
But the questions and comments of those present were often as dreary as the sight of the empty seats. Senator Wherry worked up an arm-waving fever over the fact that Korea (which isn't in Europe) was excluded from the European Recovery Program, whereas the Dutch East Indies which he called "next door" to Korea (nearly 3000 miles away) would benefit through loans to the Dutch government. Senator Ball, easily the most puzzled and puzzling man in the chamber, was for broadening ERP to include military alliances and simultaneously for narrowing ERP by cutting the appropriations. Senator Revercomb became very exercised about the "treason" of the non-existent ERP administrator who might be foolish enough to pour war materials through participating countries into Russia.

No one would have supposed from such talk that ERP has been the most talked-about subject in America for more than eight months. Or that nearly a hundred witnesses have testified before congressional committees. Or that the American public through the Gallup polls has expressed itself in favor of the plan which Senator Vandenberg describes as an effort "to help stop World War III before it starts."

Yet it would be wrong to oversimplify or over-villify the motives of senators who are out to obstruct or denature the Marshall plan. Two very honest sets of doubts can be distinguished in the confused and fumbling opposition. One is a doubt of the easy assumption that economic ills are the only—or even the paramount—reason why nations go to war. The other is concerned with the long-discredited notion that pump-priming is the cure for everything.

These doubts, perhaps, will not explain why some senators talk nonsense and why so many others simply stay away from the debate. But they may suggest why it is futile to expect logical behavior from men who see through the curtain of the future dimly, but not face to face.

State Police Say:—

Fog is a subtle menace to all kinds of transportation. Trains reduce speed, and airplanes are grounded. Careful drivers realize that fog not only destroys visibility but covers the road with a lubricating film of moisture, and therefore increases stopping distances. Light is reflected by the minute drops of water in fog. If ordinary headlights are used a shimmering curtain of white is suspended before the driver and he cannot see. Use of the depressed headlight beam will cause much of the light to be reflected downward.

COURAGE

What is courage but the will to endure to the end. Everything of hurt and ill. One more brave attempt may mend?

What is pluck but keeping on. When the trail for rest implore. Daring, after hope seems gone. Still to venture one blow more?

Failure is to all a threat. Many break beneath the strain. Brave men, however beset, Fall, but rise to try again.

Hints On Etiquette

Considered correct by etiquette editors, or not, most men slip a hand under a girl friend's arm, then after her hand to hold on to. To this department sees no "bad manners" or "poor taste" in doing this as long as the gentleman doesn't grab the lady's arm and shove her along. Putting a hand under her elbow to help her from auto or taxi is good form.

Military Aid From U. S. Proposed

Two Congressmen Urge U. S. To Act

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—Two influential Republican freshmen congressmen proposed a new U. S. foreign policy today to provide military aid to the free nations to combat any further communist aggression.

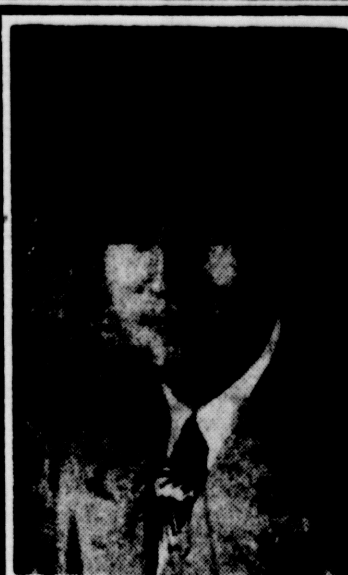

Rep. Nixon (R) Calif., and Rep. Kersten (R) Wis., planned to introduce jointly a resolution to declare the new policy which would give "solemn warning" that any further encroachments will be resisted "by every means at our disposal."

The two congressmen warned in a prepared statement:

"We submit that communist aggression, unchecked at this time, can lead only to a war which the United States could lose in a week."

Their statement urges Congress to act on the resolution so that the President and State Department may "act decisively" with confidence that the people of the United States are backing them "in carrying out an effective American foreign policy which is aimed at halting communist aggression."

Women Hurt In Auto Crash Are Improving

It was stated today at the Jameson Memorial hospital that the condition of Mrs. Zella Bradford and Mrs. Helen Gottschalk, who were terribly injured in the fatal automobile collision on route 422, just beyond Rose Point, on February 22, was good and that both women are continuing to improve.

Mrs. Gottschalk, who suffered a severe brain injury, while conscious, still does not realize what happened and is unaware of the fact that her husband was killed in the crash, it is stated.

Anniversary Of Eagles Planned

Golden Anniversary Will Be Commemorated With Initiation Of Large Class Sunday

ENTERTAINMENT ALSO ARRANGED

Launching of a "Gold Rush" campaign, and initiation of a large class of candidates at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, will be New Castle Aerie No. 455's observance of the Golden Anniversary year of the Fraternal Order of Eagles; it was announced today by George B. Cowan, Aerie president.

The campaign will spotlight the 50-year history of the organization, which is now the nation's largest benefit paying organization, with a membership approximately 1,400,000. An effort will be made to increase the strength of the Eagles for "continuance of its record in behalf of social legislation and human welfare," President Cowan stated.

Every member of the local Aerie will be enlisted in the drive, which will be featured by the formation of four Gold Rush campaign teams to build the membership of New Castle Aerie. The Gold Rush campaign is derived from the fact that about the time the Fraternal Order of Eagles was started, the Yukon and Klondike gold-seeking days were at their height.

Following the initiation ceremony, Sunday afternoon, arrangements have been made for a big evening of entertainment for the members and their wives.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

may be pardoned for doubting that he will get even that far next November.

Admitting that it may be a lapse of ethics to find amusement in the fall of a hapless fellow being on an icy sidewalk, the action of the Russian constabulary in Austria who jailed a pair of American soldiers for laughing at the tumble of a pompous Soviet officer seems a bit extreme. It seems that not even a sense of slap-stick humor is permitted under Soviet rule. This, it will occur to some persons, indicates rank inappreciation of one of Russia's outstanding champions, no less person than Charlie Chaplin himself. If you can't even smile when a military marinet slips and hits the pavement, how could you dare to guffaw at Charlie with his little cane and funny walk?

To insomnia sufferers who will try something, may we timidly suggest reading Secretary Cordell Hull's memoirs?

Measles shows a rapid rise during the winter months and is most active in the spring, reaching its highest incidence during April.

Shot By Reds

U. S. ARMY authorities in Vienna are investigating the shooting of Pfc. Jack Grunden (above), who, reportedly, was shot in the back after refusing to obey a Russian order to get off the sidewalk and walk in the gutter in front of Russian headquarters in the international district of the Austrian capital. Provost marshal's office reports Grunden will recover, but may lose his left arm. (International)

Jobs Upon A Time

George Murphy, stage and screen dancer, began his upward climb the hard way, being variously an auto toolmaker, miner, real estate agent and night club dancer. In 1927 he began his stage career in "Good News." "Of These Things" "Roberta," and other musical successes; then went to Hollywood in 1934 and appeared in "Kid Millions."

Benny Goodman was born in Russia, son of a cantor. He sang in his father's choir when only five years old, then, during a period of famine and pogroms in his native land, the family escaped in a farmer's wagon filled with hay, beneath which the children were hidden. Benny obtained a voice scholarship at a Baltimore conservatory when he was old enough, and when out of school he got a job playing in a nickelodeon. Later he joined his brothers in a vaudeville act.

Seek Action On Loyalty File On Dr. Condon

WASHINGTON, March 12. — (INS)—Rep. Nixon (R) Calif., angrily warned today that Congress may take "drastic action" to force Secretary of Commerce Harriman to turn over the department's loyalty file on Dr. Edward U. Condon.

Nixon loosed an angry retort to Harriman's criticism of a statement issued by a House Un-American Activities Subcommittee which termed the procedures of the Commerce Loyalty Board as "characterized by laxity."

Nixon asserted that the subcommittee's statement was "mild and conservative" in view of the testimony given by seven subpoenaed Commerce Department employees at the closed hearings. He remarked:

"This case has served to focus the defiance of a bureaucratic hierarchy of this administration against the Congress of the United States. Secretary Harriman may be winning the battle but he most certainly will lose the war."

To Make Hearings Public

The California announced that full transcripts of the hearings which were secret will be printed and made public.

Nixon charged that Harriman made his statement that Dr. Condon had been cleared on the loyalty count before the original Un-American activities subcommittee report "for the express purpose of discrediting the committee."

He disclosed that testimony by members of the loyalty board "clearly stated that a person could be guilty of association and indications that constitute a security risk and still be found not guilty of disloyalty."

Committee investigator Robert E. Stripling announced that the committee has lined up all its witnesses for the public hearing requested by Dr. Condon and that the open investigation can begin as soon as Chairman Thomas (R) N. J. returns to Washington.

New Agreement Made In Britain On U. S. Films

LONDON, March 12.—(INS)—The new Anglo-American film agreement, eliminating the present 75 per cent duty on imported films, was signed today.

After the signing British Board of Trade President Harold Wilson said that sterling balances of the American companies which must remain in England can be used for certain specific purposes.

Included is the extension of film studios and the increasing of film production.

Wilson said that also during the first two years of the agreement a sum limited to $10,000,000 of sterling balances can be extended outside the film industry. He suggested the money can be invested in real estate, possibly in the hotel industry.

The agreement provides that American companies cannot buy British cinemas with surplus money without agreement by the Board of Trade.

Rev. W. H. Brand To Sing "Holy City"

As a special part of the evangelistic services in progress at the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, Evangelist W. H. Brand of Fort Wayne, Ind., will sing in the service tonight at 7:30 o'clock, "The Holy City" and "The Lord's Prayer". His address will be entitled "The Need of the Hour is Also the Need of the Church."

Assisting in the program will be the boys from the Neighborhood House.

There will be no service on Saturday evening in the church but the campaign will continue Sunday and each evening next week except Saturday, with the closing service on March 21.

Charterhouse School, London, England, is noted for the number of distinguished literary men who attended it as boys. Among them are Addison, Steele and Thackeray.

Charge Soviet Report Of Shooting U. S. Soldier False

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—U. S.-Russian tension was heightened today when an official Army report labeled a Soviet account of the shooting of an American soldier in Vienna "a complete distortion of the facts."

The U. S. report flatly contradicted—with eyewitness statements—every charge the Soviet area commander, Colonel Ivanov, made to Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes, U. S. military commander in Austria.

Keyes countered with the results of his investigation and lodged a formal protest through the U. S. member of the Vienna inter-Allied commission against the incident.

Keyes further requested Ivanov to "take action to prevent such incidents."

The report said that Pfc. Jack Grunden of Portland, Ore., who was shot in the back by a Russian in the streets of Vienna last Monday was wounded by an explosive "dum-dum" bullet. Such missiles are outlawed in international warfare. The report said Grunden is in an "improved condition."

Week Of Services At First Presbyterian

Pre-Easter Services Starting Sunday Evening, With Pastor Bringing Message

Starting with Sunday evening, a week of special Pre-Easter services will take place at the First Presbyterian church, with the pastor, Dr. Robert F. Galbreath bringing the message. The services will start at 7:30 o'clock.

During the first part of the week, the series will bring forth great truths, which were spoken by wicked men; and the last three days will bring forth things which were made evident by the Cross.

There will be special music each evening by outstanding musical organizations.

Military Pact In Tel Aviv Signed

JERUSALEM, March 12.—(INS)—Jewish sources said today that a military pact was signed in Tel Aviv last night by representatives of Haganah and the Irgun Zvai Leumi organization.

Under the pact Haganah, defense arm of the Jewish agency, and the underground Irgun group, will join forces to fight against any Arab incursions of Jewish territory in the Holy Land.

The agreement is subject to formal ratification by principal Jewish agency representatives abroad.

George Washington was never in a foreign country.

Maybe the world needs a series of one-power treaties with each power agreeing with itself to behave as it thinks the others should behave.

PLAN OPEN HOUSE FOR GOLDEN WEDDING
Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Milton P. Book, 909 Winslow avenue, will occur on Tuesday, March 16, and in honor of the occasion they are planning open house for the day.
Hours are 2 to 4 in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evening.

Gay Eight Club
Mrs. John Donofrio of East Lutton street received the Gay Eight club in her home.
Card-playing was the diversion, prizes going to Mrs. Joseph DeLillo, Mrs. Patsy Veltre and Mrs. Alfonso Natale, the latter also receiving the club token.
Mrs. Ralph Cialella received a birthday and personal gift.
At a later hour the hostess was aided by her daughter, Anita, in the serving of a dainty lunch.
April 8 is the meeting with Mrs. Ralph Lombardo of East Reynolds street.

Union Township Auxiliary
Union Township Firemen's auxiliary assembled in Union high school Wednesday evening, when a new project was begun.
Tempting refreshments were served in the cafeteria. Mrs. William Keppel, Mrs. James Clark, Mrs. V. H. Hann, Mrs. Marshall Conti, Mrs. Henry Grittle and Miss Ruth Gilbert were hostesses.
Election of officers will take place at the next assembly Wednesday evening, April 14.

Old Friends Club
Members of the Old Friends club met at the residence of Miss Teresa Maciarilla of Huey street recently and officers were elected: President, Angeline Hoover; secretary, Teresa Maciarilla, and treasurer, Rose DiCola. Cards were the pastime of the evening, with Carolyn Apecilli capturing the door prize and prize for 500.
Miss Virginia Zingaro of Ellwood City and Etta Macarillo, student nurse of the New Castle hospital, were special guests.
A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Clara Macarilla.

Honor Karen Emmett
Honoring the seventh birthday anniversary of Karen Emmett, 413 Cascade street, 13 little friends gathered in her home on Thursday afternoon to help celebrate the occasion. The children played numerous games during the afternoon and later were served a delicious lunch by the honored one's mother, Mrs. Florence Emmett and her grandmother, Mrs. Alvey Gitteth.
Karen received many lovely gifts. A special guest, little Johnnie Gwin was celebrating his birthday at the same time.

H.T.P. Club Guests
Five hundred was the diversion when H.T.P. club members gathered in the home of Mrs. McKelvey Porter, 305 South Walnut street, Thursday evening.
Prizes were won by Mrs. Elmer Giering, Mrs. Earl White, and Mrs. John Smolnik. Mrs. Giering being also the recipient of an anniversary remembrance from her secret sister.
Lunch was served at the close of play with Mrs. L. J. Tindall assisting the hostess.
Next meeting will be March 25 in the home of Mrs. John Smolnik, 807 West Washington street.

HEART ATTACK TAKES BEAVER FALLS MAN
BEAVER FALLS, March 12.—Funeral arrangements are being completed for the late Clarence D. Peirce, former assistant postmaster of Beaver Falls, who died suddenly Wednesday evening of a heart attack.
Peirce, who was 71, had served under seven postmasters. He leaves a daughter and a brother. His wife preceded him in death a number of years ago.

STANDING unscratched and triumphant over the man he says robbed, kidnapped and threatened to kill him, William R. O'Bannon, Long Beach, Cal., service station operator, is the obvious victor. Just below him, battered and bloody, is Dean G. Fairchild who picked the wrong "victim" when he allegedly took O'Bannon "on a ride." The service man charges that Fairchild, after the stick-up, tried to shoot him. He then "went to work" on his attacker. (International)

Power Company Annual Report Reveals Growth

New Steam Generating Unit At Local Plant Com- pleted In Year

Pennsylvania Power company's growth was greater in 1947 than in any previous year, according to the company's annual report, which was mailed to stockholders and employees yesterday. Revenues were $8,379,957, as compared with $7,320,715 in 1946, an increase of 14.5 per cent.

Operation and maintenance expenses, however, increased 25.9 per cent, with the result that net income before preferred dividends increased only 2.4 per cent. Taxes amounted to $1,231,187, one of the largest items of expense. The report points out that utility companies and their customers carry a heavy burden of taxation; on the other hand, where Federal, state or municipal government has gone into the electric light and power business, it pays no Federal taxes, and often little or no state or municipal taxes.

Complete Project Here
The company expended $3,858,563 during the year for construction work, the principal project being the completion of the second steam-electric generating unit at the New Castle plant. The company's load reached a peak in December of 104,900 kilowatts.

In addition to a letter from President Walter H. Sammis outlining the year's business, the report contains many facts and statistics of interest. It is illustrated with pictures and charts to give the reader a clear understanding of the company's activities and the results of its operations.

Kilowatt hour sales in 1947 amounted to $21,612,368. All classifications of business showed substantial increases. Residential and commercial sales exceeded all previous years, and industrial kilowatt hours sales were highest with the single exception of the peak war year of 1944.

Add 2,621 Customers
A total of 2,621 customers were added to the company's lines, the total number amounting to 61,572 as of the year end. Residential sales per customer increased 191 kilowatt hours to 1,726, compared with 1,435 for the nation.

Several factors of particular interest stand out in the report. Discussing farm electrification, it is pointed out that 98 per cent of all farms in the area are receiving Penn Power service. In the nation as a whole, 68 per cent of the farms have electric service. The farm customers of Pennsylvania Power company used an average of 2,941 kilowatt hours of electricity, compared with an estimate of 1,800 for the nation east of the western irrigation area.

Of interest also is the company's record in reducing its residential rate. According to the report, the average rate for residential service in 1947 was 2.95 cents per kilowatt hour, compared with 5.93 cents in 1927. In other words, the average family served by the company gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. A chart in the report shows that, for the period 1935-1947, during which living costs increased 67 per cent, the cost of electricity for the company's residential customers went down 40 per cent. The company's average rate of 2.95 cents compares favorably with the national average of 3.09 cents.

Forty-Three New Industries
The report discloses that 43 new industries were established in the territory during 1947, and these, when in full operation, will employ about 2,400 persons. The extent of new home construction on the company's lines is evident in the fact that 1,183 new houses were built and connected in 1947.

The report calls attention to the fact that, of the 541 employees on the payroll, 21 per cent have been employed over 20 years and 47 per cent more than 10 years.

The company's annual reports have for the past two years received a "highest merit award" rating in the contest conducted by Financial World Magazine to encourage better reporting by American corporations.

Pittsburgh Hotel Seeks Defrauder

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—A requisition for the extradition from Maryland of a man identified as D. R. Goldberg, wanted for allegedly defrauding the Webster Hall Hotel at Pittsburgh has been issued by Gov. James H. Duff.

The extradition was requested by Allegheny County District Attorney William S. Rahauser. Goldberg is being held in Baltimore, Md.

A report filed in the governor's office revealed Goldberg was charged with cashing $137.88 worth of checks while a guest of the hotel on the pretext that he had money in a Baltimore bank.

Favor Voting In Southern Korea

SEOUL, March 12.—(INS)—The United Nations Korean commission today in Seoul voted to implement the resolution of the Little Assembly for elections in southern Korea.

Canada and Australia voted against implementation, while France and Syria abstained from casting a vote.

A spokesman for the commission said that a full communique regarding the action would be issued later today.

Two Share Award From Bryn Mawr

BRYN MAWR, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Anna Lord Strauss today shared Bryn Mawr college's highest award.

The widow of the former president and the president of the National League for Women Voters were named co-winners of the M. Carey Thomas prize of $5,000.

Mrs. Roosevelt was cited for her work in the United Nations Assembly. Miss Strauss was honored for helping women to understand the support they can give to efforts for international cooperation.

CAPT. J. V. GALLAGHER AND WIFE HAVE SON

Word has been received here of the birth of a son to Captain and Mrs. John V. Gallagher in San Francisco, Cal. The new son, named John Michael, was born in the Station Hospital, Fort Baker, Cal.

Captain Gallagher is a New Castle man who has been in the army for about 6 years. During the war he served in the South Pacific area. Presently he is working with the Navy as Liaison Officer for Joint Task Force Seven. His office is at the Naval Supply Center, Oakland, California.

Mrs. Gallagher is the former Miss Stella W. Woloszewicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Woloszewicz of 1805 Hamilton street. Captain Gallagher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Gallagher of 624 Taylor street.

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop 31

Troop 31 started their meeting with the Girl Scout Pledge. Mrs. McKenzie, troop leader, told the girls of a skating party to be held at the Arena. She also said that the cookie sale was very successful, with the troop selling 478 boxes. The meeting continued with the singing of some songs in which the girls were accompanied by Ann Richards and Carol Staats on the violin. After the singing the troop broke up into pairs with the Pocahontas Patrol working on the Child Care Badge, the Pioneer Patrol working on elicithe bunnies and the Wild Rose Patrol working on the Nature and Child Care badges. The meeting ended with the closing circle.

School Budget Near Completion

Reveal That At Least $1,725,259 Will Be Needed For Year

FINAL FIGURES NOT AS YET SET

While the school budget for 1948-49 has not been definitely set, it has progressed to the point where all that remains is to decide upon the money necessary for the instructional account.

Aside from fixing definitely the amount of money to be paid teachers for the coming year the budget seems to be complete. As it now stands, the total is $1,725,259. This figure includes teachers' salaries as presently required by state law. Any adjustments to the salary total would add that much to the budget.

Long, Hard Job

The budget committee, composed of Daniel B. Woolcock, Earle M. Brookover and Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, has worked for many weeks on the budget and the board as a whole has gone over each item in an effort to keep the budget as low as possible.

The following breakdown of the tentative budget gives some idea of what money will be spent and for what it will be spent. It must be kept in mind that this budget has not yet been approved and that it contains only the state mandated salaries of teachers.

State Appropriation

Of the estimated receipts of $1,725,259, $434,000 will be given to the district by the state. The balance on hand to start the fiscal year, July 5, will be $125,000. It is estimated that $43,463 will be paid in by delinquent tax payments, tuition from non-resident pupils is estimated at $20,000 and other sources, such as rentals and refunds are expected to bring in an estimated $35,000. From property tax on an assessed valuation of $49,491,050 at a levy of 20 mills the estimated return is set at $949,821. A temporary loan of $117,475 is included in the estimated receipts.

The size of the 1948-49 budget is easily explained when the various expenditures are broken down. The largest single item is "instructional service" which includes teachers and class room supplies. This amount is $971,030.

Debt service is another large item, one which cannot be escaped or reduced. This total is $175,457. This includes a payment on principal debt of $131,000 and an interest payment of $44,457. As of now, the bonded indebtedness of the school district is $1,076,000. The oldest bonds outstanding are $120,000 of 1921. The interest rate scales from 5 1/2 per cent down to 3 per cent.

Other Expenditures

Other estimated expenditures include the following:

General control, or it might be termed management costs. This includes business office expenses, tax collection, legal service, census enumeration, and a number of other general expenses. The total is $48,045.

Auxiliary agencies and co-ordinate activities is estimated at $32,827. This account includes such things as park and playgrounds, medical and dental inspection, athletic officer expenses and other expenses.

Plant operation is estimated at $190,471. This includes the salaries of janitors, fuel, water, light and power, supplies, care of grounds and incidentals.

Maintenance of plant is estimated at $130,145. This includes building and grounds maintenance, repairs, furniture and other equipment.

Fixed charges are estimated at $32,800. This includes the state retirement board payment of $26,000, $5000 insurance and $1800 compensation.

Capital outlay is estimated at $124,484. In this account is included a proposed purchase of land at $20,000. Some capital outlay for furniture and equipment is seen for most schools. The amount allotted for senior high is $23,486 for cases, chairs, typewriters, chemistry tables, an inter-communicating system. Heating, plumbing and lighting costs are put at $50,000. Taken as a whole, the budget is a voluminous affair. It represents a lot of time, energy and of course money. Taxpayers who are interested in seeing just where their money is going can do when the budget goes on public display. The date will be announced later.

Animal Fee Makes For Unhappy Tail

CHICAGO—(INS)—Investigators of Chicago's housing situation recently discovered the case of a cat and two kittens who were forced to pay rent.

Mrs. Charlotte Martens was the owner of the animals. Originally, she paid $65 monthly in rent.

Shortly after she acquired a cat, it gave birth to two kittens.

Received Note

The next day, Mrs. Martens received a note from her landlord, Max Rosenberg. It read:

"We are allowed $10 per month per animal. Please let us know if you intend keeping the three cats in your apartment. The addition will be $30."

Two weeks later Mrs. Martens paid a half month's rental for the cats of $15.

Then she gave the cats away because she thought their upkeep was too high.

Philadelphia Woman Victim Of Swindle

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—(INS)—One of the oldest swindles known claimed another victim in Philadelphia today.

Mrs. Rocco Guerriero got out all her money—$1,500—to have it "blessed" by a gypsy woman who presented herself at the door. The gypsy wrapped the sum in a towel and after murmuring some incantations warned Mrs. Guerriero not to open the towel for three days.

When the gypsy departed, Mrs. Guerriero became suspicious and unwrapped the towel. She found only a bar of soap.

The money represented the savings of Mrs. Guerriero and her mother and was to have been used to finance a new home.

Hi-Y Boys Guests Of General Assembly

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—Ten Hi-Y boys, preparing for the YMCA's youth and government program at the state capital April 2-3, will be the guests today of officers of the General Assembly.

The boy officials, headed by "Governor" Don Cook, of Rochester, Pa., are being coached in preparation for the model legislature convening next month.

Approximately 15,000 high school boys have been participating in the government-training program in more than 600 Hi-Y clubs throughout Pennsylvania, according to Secretary H. J. Boorman, of Harrisburg.

Move By Wagner Is Embarrassing

Employees Of Auditor General's Department Caught In Political Vise

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

(By International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 12.—The 400 employees of the auditor general's department have been caught in a political vise as a result of their chief's withdrawal from Democratic party activity. G. Harold Wagner placed them in an embarrassing position a week ago by releasing them from obligations, financial and otherwise, to the party during the campaign. His refusal to file nomination petitions for delegate to the national convention, although stated by the organization, suspended subordinates between the frying pan and the fire. Wagner's action could hardly be ignored as it represented an indication of his intention to use them as a political weapon. Workers in the department now apparently have a choice between sticking by Wagner and being blackballed by their party or following the organization with the danger of being ousted by Wagner. The auditor general turned his back on the party after the majority of leaders rejected Frank Boylan, his administrative assistant, as candidate for state treasurer in favor of Sen. William J. Lane of West Brownsville.

The Draft Eisenhower league's announced intention to build up a Republican presidential preferential contest in conjunction with the April 27 primary failed to materialize. The movement collapsed to all intents and purposes with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's withdrawal from the field of potential candidates. The league attempted to resuscitate itself by inviting all GOP aspirants to enter the race in order to obtain pledged delegates to the national convention. There was no public response.

From all accounts former Gov. Arthur H. James of Plymouth is paying no little attention to politics in the coal fields or for that matter, in the state.

In following this policy the "breaker boy" is quite different from most Pennsylvania governors after their terms expired. Most former governors either stayed in politics or accepted sinecures as business magnates, counselors, heads of public trusts and so on. Just now James is devoting much time to social service, giving talks on community uplift and in the interest of church progressivism. He continues as a member of the Luzerne County Bar but his appearances in court are not nearly as numerous as they would be if the Shawnee warbler was disposed to accept even a small number of the cases which his services are requested. The understanding in Wilkes-Barre is that the former executive is fairly "well fixed" financially and wants to take things easy. He is still a great lover of fishing.

Criticism of local government weaknesses was made recently by Dr. Harold F. Alderfer, director of the state bureau of municipal affairs and a champion of sound local government. He claimed hometown governments were "drying up at the roots" because they failed to keep up a healthy circulation of young participants. Local government jobs have not been sufficiently attractive to young men and women, he said. He urged schools to stimulate an interest among students in the operation of government.

The advent of spring has brought an onrush of cockroaches in certain state capitol buildings. Even the governor's office has been menaced by the pests. But maintenance workers have rushed to the defense with sneeze-producing anti-bug powder which they hope will cause the insects to retreat in confusion.

Of course, you can't fool all of the people all of the time but you only have to fool a majority.—Pathfinder.

Steelworkers Are Planning Event

Contest Is First Feature For Picnic September 12, To Be At Conneaut Lake

The one day when labor will doff its working clothes—for a day of fun, has been announced as Sunday, September 12, slated by the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, district No. 21, the date planned for a day-long annual picnic. The event will be held at Conneaut Lake, Pa.

Although not scheduled until early fall, elaborate plans for this affair are already underway, commencing with a "name the day" contest for the steelworker or any member of his family.

"Because this day will be more than just a picnic," said John W. Grajciar, district director of USA, CIO, in Sharon, "and one of the championships play offs of various events and teams from all the sub-districts, the picnic committee would like a fitting title for the day other than just 'picnic'—hence the reason for this contest."

All entries for the "name the day" contest must be written and mailed to Steelworkers Picnic Committee, Boyle Building, Sharon, Pa., in care of the Steelworkers Picnic Committee. This contest is open to the 25,000 steelworkers and their immediate families, their entries to be submitted before midnight, March 31, 1948. The winner to be named in mid-April will receive the prize of $100.00 in cash.

Included among the judges of the contest will be Samuel G. Neff, Frank Passante and Cecy Bonley, of Ellwood City; John H. Griddle, staff representative of CIO, Jack McCombs, of New Castle, and Frank Hulina of Bessemer.

WESTWARD MIGRATION

The 1950 census of the United States is bound to show many changes in the placement of people. A recent check sponsored by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company indicates that the population of the Pacific Coast area has increased more than 40 per cent in the past seven years. This represents about four and a half times the gain reported in other portions of the country. Depression prompted much of the movement westward, the war accounted for most of the rest.

Probably a majority of the new residents of California, Oregon and Washington will remain there. At least no important trend to the East has been noted to date. In other words, the losses sustained by the Atlantic seaboard and the Middle States must be regarded as permanent. New England especially has felt the disappearance of many of its younger men and women. The figures tabulated in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Western Massachusetts in the next census may be startling. Metropolitan Boston, the industrial cities of Connecticut and little Rhode Island doubtless will be discovered to have advanced, but other portions of the Northeast corner of the Nation have fallen behind.—Washington, D. C. Star.

Plane Carriers
Sought By Navy

High Powered Campaign Is Started For Aircraft Carriers For Navy

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Navy is starting a new high-powered campaign for the aircraft carrier. If it succeeds it will leave the sea service in control of a potent arm of aviation at a time when the Air Force is taking over more and more naval aviation functions under the unification act.

It was the flat-tops, used as mobile advance bases, that carried United States airplanes within striking distance of the Japs and thus drove the enemy clear back across the Pacific.

Now, on the heels of a statement by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that this country must have far-flung bases from which to attack savagely any power which opens an offensive against America, Assistant Navy Secretary Brown says his service is ready to furnish the bases in the form of carriers.

Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan disclosed that a 60,000-to-80,000-ton "super modern" carrier will be built. Such a craft would be the biggest warship in history, by at least 15,000 tons. It would mount an attack by late-model jet fighters and bombers.

Brown points out that land bases are vulnerable to "savage" attacks themselves because they are immobile, whereas the aircraft carrier is mobile.

That says Brown, would make an atom bomb attack on the force "lucky" to hit one ship.

Lewis For Dewey
John L. Lewis generally is believed at the present time to be in New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's camp in the '48 presidential sweepstakes.

If Dewey fails to obtain the Republican nomination, however, and it goes to Taft or some other candidate, Lewis may stay silent in next fall's campaign.

The United Mine Workers president is bitterly opposed to Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft and he is not likely to support President Truman for re-election in view of his losing court battle with the administration in the 1946-47 coal crisis.

Whether Lewis could deliver the miners' vote to Dewey remains a question. Lewis split with Franklin D. Roosevelt, but the miners continued to vote for FDR.

However, many of the miners share Lewis' resentment toward President Truman. Some political observers believe that miners, particularly in rural districts, may vote for Henry A. Wallace, dispenser of federal aid as secretary of agriculture.

Who's For Who?
Washington observers are speculating on whether Senator Scott W. Lucas, New Deal Democrat from Illinois was just providing a little comic relief from the increasing tension in the political situation or whether he really means it.

The story goes like this: Lucas suggested to the Senate that GOP presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey, governor of New York, "join us in our battle against our friends on the other side of the Capitol to keep the farm program intact."

The suggestion came as the senator discussed Dewey's recent speech before a farm group in New York.

The New Dealer proclaimed that only through the "valiant" efforts of Senate Democratic members and some Republican sympathetic to the farm program was it saved from defeat.

"The battle is about to begin again, and I am very glad to know that Governor Dewey is with us on the farm program," Lucas added. "I hope Harold Stassen finds out about it, too."

At this point, Senator Kenneth S. Wherry (R) Nebraska, majority whip, wanted to know: "Is the senator for Governor Dewey or Governor Stassen?"

Amid the general laughter, Lucas replied: "I am for Senator Wherry."

ON ITS 1947 BUSINESS

We have just mailed the annual report for 1947 to our stockholders and employees. This record of the Company's operations may also be of interest to you as a customer and we are reprinting portions of it here.

The year 1947 was remarkable in many respects. A substantial increase in use of electric service, a large construction program and further diversification of industry in the area were outstanding developments of the year.

Those who have invested in our business, directly as security owners, or indirectly as insurance policy holders or bank depositors, are also interested in the continued welfare of our Company and the area which we serve. We recognize our responsibility not only to maintain adequate service to our customers at reasonable rates, but also to preserve the soundness of our securities and thus continue to merit the faith which these customers and security holders have in us.

I take this opportunity to commend all of our employees for their fine service throughout the year.

B. W. Samuels
PRESIDENT

The average price for residential service in 1947 was 2.95c per kilowatt hour, compared with 5.80c in 1937. In other words, the average family served by this Company gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago.

Over a period of years the Company has, by voluntary reductions in rates, passed on to its customers the benefits of the technological progress it has achieved. The rate policies of the Company have also included the adoption of promotional-type rates to encourage its customers to use their service to greater advantage.

The Company's record is shown graphically in charts on this page. In 1947 average use per residential customer was 1,726 kilowatt hours, compared with 1,360 kilowatt hours for the State of Pennsylvania and 1,435 for the nation. The Company's average rate for residential service of 2.95c compared with 3.35c for the state and 3.00c for the nation.

The reduced cost of residential service is especially striking when compared with living costs. The third chart shows for the period, 1935-1947, that the cost-of-living index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics has increased 67%, whereas the average price per kilowatt hour paid for the Company's residential service has decreased 40%.

During the year the Company expended $3,858,563 for construction work. At the year end a second steam-electric generating unit was placed in operation at the New Castle plant, raising its capacity from 40,000 kilowatts to 88,000 kilowatts. New 69,000-volt transmission circuits from the power plant to Cedar Street Substation in New Castle and from there to the Ohio State Line, as well as the complete rebuilding of the 23,000-volt line from the power plant to this substation, constituted the principal additions and improvements to the transmission system. New distribution lines, including rural extensions, totaled 139 miles.

During 1947, 43 new industries were established in the area. Some of these are not yet in full operation, but, when completed, will employ approximately 2,400 additional persons. A survey by Company meter readers in December disclosed that 1,183 new houses were built and connected to Company lines during the year.

As of December 31, 1947, the Company had connected 96% of all the farms in the area. This high saturation compared with approximately 68% for the nation. Average farm use of electricity was 2941 kilowatt hours for the year, compared with an estimated 1800 for the eastern half of the United States.

There were 541 employees on the payroll at the end of the year, of whom 21% have over 20 years' service and 47% over 10 years'.

Total taxes amounted to $1,231,187 or 8.9% more than in 1946. Utility companies and their customers bear a heavy burden of taxes—Federal, state and municipal—each year.

Oh Happy Day!

Some Observations On High U.S. Divorce Rate

By RUTH BRIGHAM
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—(INS)—A leading marital expert took another look at the high divorce rate in general today—and the West Coast in particular—and came up with the same old story: The male animal simply has to play the starring role—or the marriage will slip.

Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the Institute of Family Relations at Los Angeles and well-known University of Southern California psychologist, said:

"Men still want to be the breadwinners in their families. A man doesn't want to be outshone by his wife."

True of Movie Marriages

"Particularly is this true of movie marriages. A movie actress stands a better chance of a happy marriage—if she retires from the screen. It certainly is tough for a girl to maintain a successful marriage in that blaze of limelight."

Notable examples of happy and lasting movie marriages in which the wife was retired to bring up her family are the Bing Crosby (Doris Lee), Charles Boyers (Pat Patterson), Harold Lloyd (Mildred Davis) and others.

In Boyer's case he admitted it—"I thought my wife's place was in the home," the actor said.

Dr. Popenoe even went so far as to say:

"From what I've observed of movie people, I'd say the men at the top seem to be enjoying life as a rule, while the women stars seem to be nervous, intense and always searching."

Cause of Divorce Trend

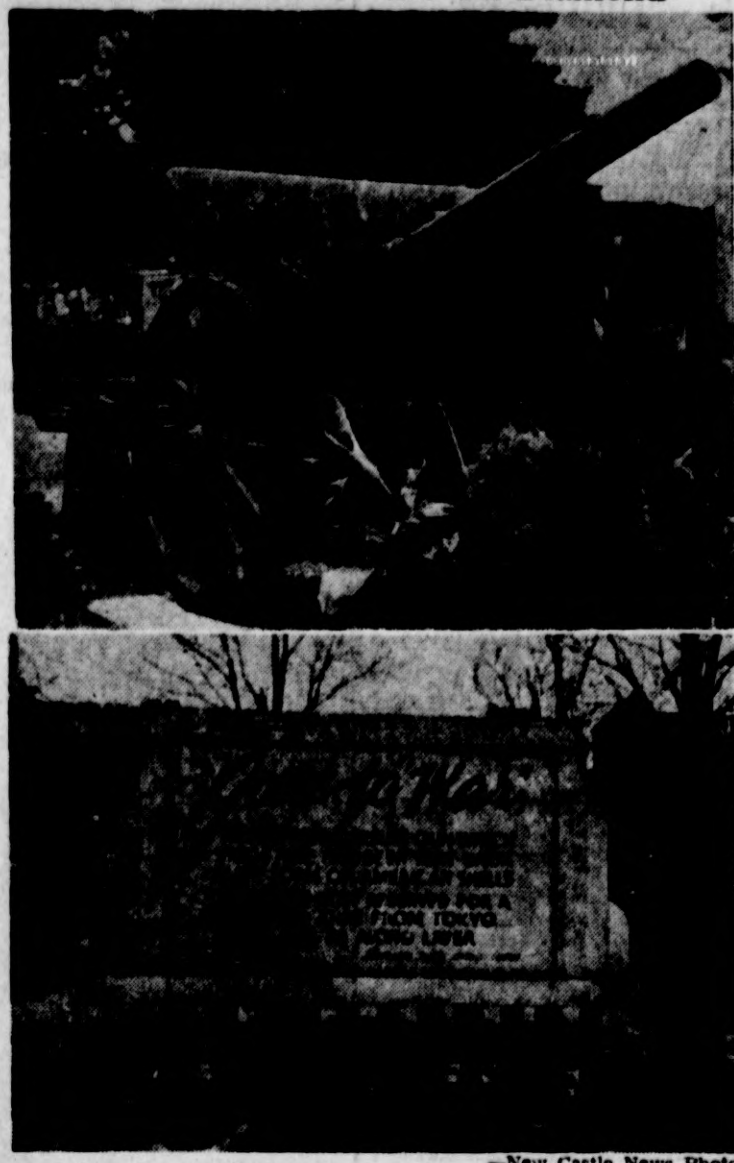

Dr. Popenoe held Hollywood partly responsible for the divorce trend today—"because whatever the glamorous stars do seems wonderful to the girls on Main street"—but he hastened to add:

"Actually, there are plenty of lasting marriages in the movie world. It's not that so many actors and actresses get divorced—but that some of them do it so often."

The pioneer in marital relations clinics takes a dim view of divorce curtailment until the schools of the nation begin educating girls in homemaking.

If a woman must have a career and wants marriage at the same time—the psychologist said in conclusion—she should choose an unglamorous or undemanding profession, such as bookkeeping, or music teaching, not acting, fiction writing, not news reporting.

Once Familiar Scenes On Diamond

In the above pictures are two scenes which were once quite familiar to the people of New Castle. The top one shows the old cannon that formerly rested on the west end of the Public Square and the bottom photo shows the sign which replaced it.

The cannon, a reminder of the men from New Castle who served in World War I, was brought to this city in the early 20's through the efforts of the American Legion. Then for almost twenty years the gun withstood all the elements heroically, with nary a sign of rust.

With the entry of the United States into World War II, the need for scrap metal became urgent. The old cannon was removed and, along with similar relics from other cities, went back into the service, this time in the form of shells and bullets. Soon after removal of the cannon, a sign appeared with the following message: "GONE TO WAR! The Captured German Gun Which Stood Here Has Been Sent Back In The Form Of American Shells. This Space Now Reserved For a Captured Gun From Tokyo Which Will Be Along Later."

Two and a half years ago World War II came to a close. This year is New Castle's Sesqui-Centennial celebration. The space on the Diamond is still reserved and from latest reports, it seems that there may be another cannon brought here to fill that space. Let us hope that this cannon will be able to spend the remainder of its existence in peace.

Rehabilitation Work Gives Many New Life Outlook

Many Transferred From Public Assistance Rolls To Paying Jobs By State Agency

HARRISBURG—The sound economic principles indicated in the vocational rehabilitation program of Pennsylvania are substantiated virtually every day in reports of the Bureau of Rehabilitation clients who have been removed from charity rolls and made self-sustaining economic assets to the commonwealth, according to a statement today by William H. Chesnut's statement originates with a report received about a bureau client who was rehabilitated at a cost of $250, an investment which has placed him in a position to learn approximately $50 a week. Had he continued as he was before being referred to the bureau for help, he would have cost the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance about $1500 a year for an indefinite number of years, determined by his life span. This money would have been spent in funds for the bare necessities of living—room, board and clothing.

The Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco rests on the world's largest supports. The pillars are half an average city block in size, which rest on the bottom of the bay.

Young Man Tries To Commit Suicide, Is Hit By Train

CARNEGIE, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—Gilbert Heyers, Jr., 23, of Walkers Mill, Pa., was reported in a serious condition today after he was struck by the "Sunshine Limited", crack Pennsylvania passenger train, in Carnegie last night.

Heyers stormed out of the home of Madeline Ghelarducci, 19, a girl he had been keeping company with following a quarrel with her mother, telling her he was going to "stand on the railroad tracks," police reported.

Youth Who Tried To Blind Self To Go On Trial

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—(INS)—A 24-year-old Philadelphian who twice tried to blind himself will go on trial next week for forgery.

The youth—Jerome Poster—claims he attempted to blind himself by jabbing hypodermic syringes and a straight pin into his eyes in order to rid himself of an "uncontrollable obsession" for forgery.

Today he pleaded not guilty to charges of forging signatures to some $4,000 worth of war bonds. Federal Judge George A. Welsh remanded him to prison in default of $20,000 bail pending his trial.

A government spokesman said it has cost upwards of $500,000 to apprehend the youthful forgery suspect.

Poster was arrested in Phoenix, Arizona, two weeks ago on a charge of forging two checks for sums amounting to $5,100.

An honor high school graduate at 18, Poster possibly has succeeded in blinding himself, though a medical examination is to be made to determine the extent of the damage.

Clark Challenges Legislation To Bar Communist Ballots

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—Attorney General Clark informed Congress today that legislation to bar the Communist party from the ballot in federal, state or local elections would be of "doubtful validity."

Clark's opinion was contained in a letter sent to Rep. Lecompte (R) Iowa, chairman of the House Administration Committee, which held hearings on a bill to that effect sponsored by Rep. Cole (R) Mo.

Clark said such legislation would constitute "a bill of attainder, a denial of due process of law and an attempt by the federal government to legislate" in a field where no authority exists.

Johnson Bronze Boys' Club Holds Initial Meeting

Over 50 boys were present on Thursday evening in the central branch of the Y.M.C.A. as the Johnson Bronze company's boys club held its first organizational meeting.

Plans were made for the club's program for the remainder of the winter season at the association. An advisory board composed of Ernest Hawk, D. Seeger, John Eninger, Paul Cuba Sr. and Jack Bosco set next week's meeting time at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, March 18. Movies and swimming will be on the program.

It is planned to have two groups in the club, according to age—8 to 11, and 12 to 15. It thus will be possible to meet the interests and needs of both groups.

Two UEW Officials Quit National Body

NEW YORK, March 12.—(INS)—Two officials of the United Electrical Workers Union have resigned from the national executive committee of the CIO's political action committee.

President Albert Fitzgerald and Secretary-Treasurer Julius Enders said today they withdrew from the committee because of the opposition of the formation of a third party which they termed "completely negative action."

1947 Greatest Year For Fish Stocking

HARRISBURG—Last year broke all records for production of fish and the numbers stocked in the opening fishing waters in Pennsylvania by the Pennsylvania Board of Fish Commissioners.

C. A. French, commissioner of fisheries, reports that "last year we stocked 2,075,522 legal trout ranging in size from seven inches to 20 inches and weighing more than 305 tons." More than 40 tons of catfish, numbering some 271,735 of the largest "catties" ever released by the commission, and 2,954,590 fingerling trout were stocked in approved streams.

The warm water fish distribution last year included more than 620,000 black bass and millions of bluegill, carp, yellow perch, pike, perch, pickerel, suckers, frogs, minnows, white fish and cisco. The grand total was 169,984,052 of all species.

Truman Seeks Stop-Gap Fund

President Realizes Recovery Program Will Not Be Enacted By April 1

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—(INS)—President Truman recognized Thursday that the European recovery program will not be enacted by April 1 and asked Congress for a stop-gap appropriation of 55 million dollars to provide interim relief to Australia, France and Italy.

The President, in a letter to Speaker Martin (R) Mass., said that the funds would permit maintenance of continuing flow of supplies to the three nations which are "imperative for the preservation of the economies of these countries."

Grave Danger

The new funds would be in addition to the 522 million dollars appropriated last year for Italy, Trieste, Greece and France.

The President said: "There now is grave danger that a break in the supply pipeline will occur between the end of the interim aid program, which the Congress authorized to continue to March 31, and the start of any program which could be authorized under the European recovery legislation now being considered by Congress."

The President added: "Events which have taken place in Europe during recent weeks do not permit us with safety or prudence to risk a break in the supply flow at this critical moment. I therefore hope that the Congress will find it possible to make available the needed funds before April 1."

The appropriation proposed will provide relief only for a very short period and extreme urgency remains for the earliest possible authorization of the European recovery program itself."

Advised by Director The President acted after being advised by budget director Webb that "it does not now appear prudent to assume passage" by April 1 of ERP. Webb added that "we are therefore faced with the prospect of a serious gap in the flow of supplies."

The President pointed out in his communication to Martin that Congress last year authorized an appropriation of 597 million dollars for relief of which 75 million dollars has never been appropriated. Therefore no new authorization would be needed to make the additional funds available.

Wildlife Week Starts March 21

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—The advent of spring also will herald this year the 11th annual observance of "National Wildlife Week."

The State Game Commission has called for statewide participation in the observance and year-long practice of conservation. The week will begin March 21.

An attempt will be made to "focus national attention on natural problems that are growing more complex each year," the commission said.

The campaign will be renewed during the week of April 4-10 which has been proclaimed "Pennsylvania Conservation Week," it was added.

"It is imperative that we stimulate an understanding of the deeper meaning of preserving and perpetuating our natural resources," the commission asserted. "For several decades we have been digging deeper and farther into our storehouse of natural resources. Four billion tons of soil are being eroded away each year, our forests are being cut down fifty per cent faster each year than we can grow them, our waters are getting more and more polluted, and the drain on other resources is equally appalling."

Jobless Payments Show Big Jump

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black today reported unemployment benefits paid jobless veterans and workers climbed sharply during the week ended March 5 when disbursements totaled $2,618,976.

Payments to unemployed veterans amounted to $1,256,324 compared to $991,714 during the preceding week, Black said.

Jobless workers received payments totaling $1,360,652 in comparison with $927,470 the previous week, he added.

Black also reported direct relief payments to needy Pennsylvanians amounted to $325,967, during the week ended March 10, in contrast to $325,116 the preceding week.

Spring Style Show Given In Cathedral For Cancer Center

Let it swing, let it swirl, let it sway, at about mid-calf length—your skirt for spring, ladies, it was noted at the showing of spring fashions entertainment parade before an audience of approximately one thousand in the dining room of the Cathedral, Thursday evening.

Put on by the Strouss-Hirschberg Company under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's club for the benefit of the Cancer Detection Center, the style show gave the large and interested audience a glimpse of such new style trends as in silhouettes, the flared, the tubular, the rounded, the draped, of favorite fabrics with gabardine leading the field in wooleas, of new colors such as balenaga tan and more soft luscious pastels than for some seasons.

First Group
Highlighting the first group, "Suited for Spring" was a Swansdown suit of soft primrose yellow wool, as models paraded out a runway from the stage to the middle of the room, against a background screen of glistening white bordered with greenery and bright flowers.

"En-eeing" with commentary at the microphone was Mrs. Marjorie W. Hamilton, of the Strouss-Hirschberg's, who was in charge of the style show arrangements. Mrs. Hamilton wore a floor-length dinner gown of kelly green crepe and at the piano, Miss Audrie Cromie, also wore a gown of kelly green. Models were members of the store personnel.

Second Group
In the second group, spring coat styles were revealed as graceful and becoming as they have been for several seasons, many of the long, full swinging type. One in brown gabardine with a stand-up collar worn with beige accessories was particularly smart.

Noticeable was the accent on smartly styled accessories. Millinery, shoes, and handbags in red, kelly green, navy and balenaga tan have an important place in this spring's fashion picture. Fur capes have returned to the graces of fashion and one in sable-dyed squirrel over a printed crepe afternoon dress, one of flared black kidskin, and one of grey kidskin were modeled.

Bony toppers in high shades, one of chamade wool, one of emerald green covert, and one of pink wool suede, all shown over navy crepe dresses formed one group.

Leisure Hours Togs
Then came "Togs for Leisure Hours" featuring lounging pajama-

Democratic State Committee Secretary Resigns From Post

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner's retaliation against the Democratic organization manifested itself today in the resignation from the Democratic state committee of Secretary Jackson Scarl of Allentown.

Scarl announced that he would quit the non-salaried post, which he has held since 1946, March 15 because he did not approve of the candidates slated by party leaders for auditor general and state treasurer. Scarl is a $4200 a year assistant director of disbursements in the auditor general's department.

His action fit in with the pattern of retaliation indicated by Wagner when he strongly hinted to his 400 employees last week that he would not tolerate their continued allegiance to the organization. The "family discussion" followed the organization's rejection of Frank A. Boylan of Carbondale, his administrative assistant and candidate for state treasurer in favor of Sen. William J. Lane of West Brownsville.

Scarl's letter of resignation to State Chairman J. Warren Mickle, also job holder under Wagner, bore a resemblance in tone to the statement issued by Boylan on Monday when he decided not to stage a primary fight.

SHOWER AT BRIDE'S HOUSE

One of my daughter's friends is going to give her a bridal shower. Since this friend lives a great distance from her and the guests live close to us, she would like to have the shower at our home if this is correct. Also, as the bride will be married in a suit and only immediate members of both families will be present, must we send invitations?

Answer: She may correctly have her shower in your house. She should, however, send out invitations in her name. You may issue verbal invitations to members of your family and the groom's family, inasmuch as they only will be invited.

Question: When may the groom's parents leave their son's wedding reception?

Answer: Any of the guests may leave the wedding reception at any time after the bride and groom have left for their wedding tour. Question: When there is no host at dinner and the hostess has put the woman of most importance at the end of the table opposite her, how should service proceed?

Answer: The woman at the opposite end of the table is usually served first and service then proceeds to the left. It may alternate to the left at one course; to the right at the next course, so that the same person will not be served last.

Question: I have some small forks which are supposed to be used for salad. Have they any other use?

Answer: They are also used for dessert—pie and cake. Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Babson Discusses Recent Slump In Some Values

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1948, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Fla., March 12.—Let us examine the prospects for general business during the remainder of 1948. In any such consideration, it is necessary to realize that the average of business volume throughout the country is a robust 31 per cent above normal. Naturally, such feverish output cannot continue forever. If you follow the Babsonchart, you have seen the business curve set all kinds of new records. In accordance with the law of action and reaction upon which my forecast theory has for 40 years been based, it would appear that a staggering recession—even amounting to a major depression—is overdue. This, however, will not come in 1948.

Outlook For 1948

I am often asked if the break in stock and commodity prices is the beginning of such a toboggan slide. Even if the remarkable rate of activity registered in 1947, is not entirely duplicated this year, the average decline should be small. In fact, we expect a 5% decline in 1948 business volume from the extremely high 1947 volume.

Purchasing power will move along at a very high level. I forecast that the national income for 1948 will about equal the $130 billion estimated for 1947. The individual tax bill may be somewhat lower. Therefore, the general picture is one of plentiful buying power. Farm incomes may possibly suffer some losses, but should not fall more than 20% below current levels which are well above parity.

Wholesale Commodity Prices

Whether the inflation spiral in wholesale commodity prices has yet fully run its course, remains to be seen. The recent drastic slump in the major commodity futures market may well have marked the turning point; but it would be unwise to be too inflexible on this score. A serious crop failure, plus a third round of wage increases could result in commodity prices again turning upward.

Record domestic employment level, at high wages, also spells continued large public purchasing power, despite inflated prices. Production costs are unlikely to drop, and probably will advance further, should labor make a successful bid for increased wages as a result of advancing living costs. These major factors should be kept in mind.

Labor and Stocks

Labor leaders have two primary aims for this year. The first is to obtain a third round of wage increases to offset advances in the cost of living. During the next few months a great many union contracts will expire and many others will reach the wage reopening phase. Before the third quarter has been reached, organized workers of the nation may have added a little more to their take-home pay—but very little and in most industries nothing.

Inflation has passed the stock market by. Greater value may exist dollar-for-dollar in the stock market today than in any other part of our economic system. Thus, it would be only natural to expect that stocks would turn up during the summer or fall, due to purchases of those desiring income. The stock market, however, will naturally be very selective. At any time in the stock market there are certain groups that have a more attractive outlook than others. In the bond market the long term trend is towards rising interest rates resulting in lower bond prices.

International Outlook

During 1948 America's role in the international drama will become more significant, more colorful, more dominant than ever before. The hungry peoples of the world will continue to look to us for help. The weak will depend upon our strength. Management and labor, radicals and conservatives, farmers and industrialists, Republicans and Democrats—all must join forces to secure and maintain a vigorous, healthy economy. Only as long as this nation enjoys good health and harmony, will it serve as a bulwark against communism either abroad or at home.

Magic Show To Be Given At School

Professor Walter Biberich To Present Program At Shenango Township School

In Shenango high school auditorium on Tuesday, March 16, at 8 o'clock, the Shenango P.T.A. will present a program of magic by Professor Walter Biberich, of New Wilmington.

For the overture and during intermission, the high school band under the direction of Miss Leola Rowe will play.

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Frank Hay, president, Mrs. Walter S. McKee, program chairman, and Rev. Earl Collins, in charge of tickets.

Indications are that there will be a large attendance present.

French Parents Give Baby Sitters Beds

PARIS—(INS)—Parisian parents who want to go galivanting of an evening have to end the festivities early or—provide their baby-sitters with beds.

The reason: the Metro, Paris' subway, ceases operations shortly after midnight and there is a dearth of taxis as well as gas to power them.

The most active baby-sitting agency in the city, the Catholic Institute, has promulgated the new ruling to insure its personnel against long walks home and loss of sleep.

Since dinner in France starts generally about 8 p. m., the chances are slim that a couple taking in a show or attending a cabaret will return home to relieve the sitter in time.

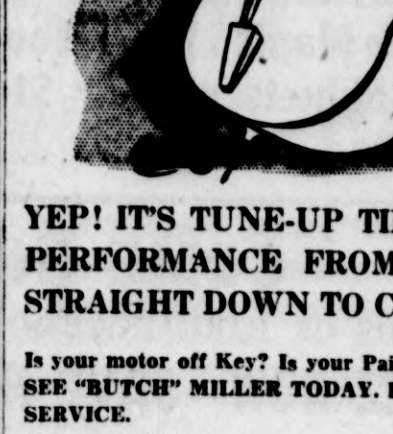

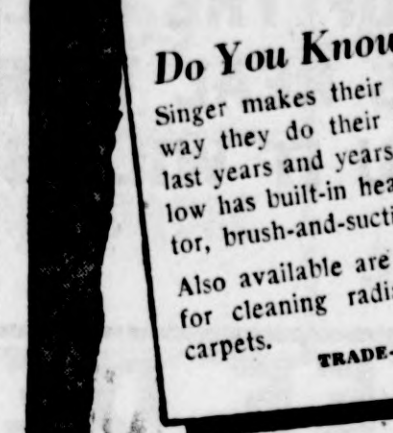

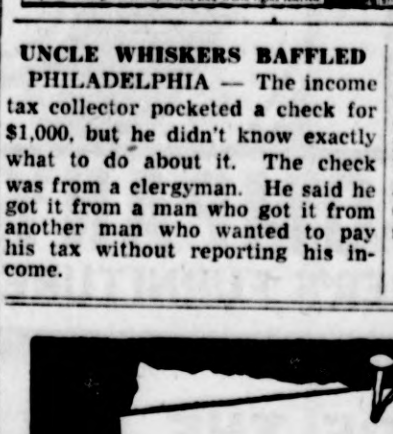

NEW LOOK: NEW FACE
LONDON—(INS)—To the "New Look" add the "New Face": Fashions in faces are changing according to Len Garde, chief make-up man at J. Arthur Rank's Islington (London) studios. Just as Milady's form is being padded and accentuated a la bygone days so too is milady's face being given the "old-fashioned" treatment. Chief steps to the "New Face" according to Garde: 1. Heavier eyebrows; 2. top lip fairly full; 3. hair upswept with curls on top of the head to give height.

Many New Taxes Levied In State

New Taxing Powers Allowed
In State Are Being Used
In 42 Counties

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(UPI)—Approximately 150 local governments in 42 Pennsylvania counties have levied new taxes under broad revenue raising powers granted by the General Assembly, it was reported today by the State Chamber of Commerce.

A survey indicated "between 10 and 15 different kinds of taxes—varying from income and severance taxes to levies on payroll machines and juke boxes—already have been introduced," the Chamber announced.

The chief items taxed are amusements and coal, the Chamber said.

Many Tax Advantages
About 30 of the 46 third class cities, more than 70 boroughs and first class townships had approximately 50 school districts have taken advantage of the 1947 act permitting virtually unlimited taxing by local governments, according to the Chamber. The report was based on data furnished by 66 of the 216 local Chambers.

The fact that no complete information was available pointed up one of the weaknesses in this new tax legislation, the organization asserted.

"Under its existing provisions, individuals and business concerns can never be entirely certain of what Pennsylvania's local tax system is, or what it may be next year or even next month," the Chamber alleged.

New Remedy Unavailable
It was too early, it was added, to determine whether the new law will prove beneficial or detrimental to the state as a whole.

The organization's study was limited as local government officials met to solve tax administration and other problems.

The Chamber of Commerce reported 30 communities have adopted amusement taxes, mostly covering movies and sports events, while 20 others are considering the levies. Over 40 municipalities and school districts have imposed or are considering severance taxes, mostly on coal, ranging from one to 10 cents a ton.

Four cities have adopted income taxes, based on Philadelphia's impost. They were Johnstown, one percent; Monaca, five mills; Scranton, one per cent and Sharon, seven mills. Fifteen others are studying the wage levy.

Communities were advised not to adopt Philadelphia's tax forms which were described as "the poorest you can find."

Communities Adopting Taxes
The Chamber of Commerce listed the following communities which have adopted taxes:

Allegheny county — Jefferson township, severance; McKees Rocks, mechanical devices; Pittsburgh, amusement, mercantile and others; Pleasant Hills, severance; Robinson township, severance; South Fayette township, severance; Tarentum, amusement and per capita; West Deer township, severance; Verona, per capita.

Columbia county — Galitzin, per capita; Johnstown, income.

Clarke county — Cooper township, severance; Lawrence township, severance.

Clinton county — Lock Haven, amusement.

Crawford county — Meadville, amusement and per capita.

Fayette county — Fayette, per capita.

Monaca county — Myerdale, per capita.

Washington county — Charlestown, amusement and mechanical devices; Charlestown, severance; Demora, amusement; East Pike Run township, severance; Monaca, amusement, mechanical devices and others; Roscoe, amusement, per capita and mechanical devices.

Westmoreland county — Bolivar, amusement; Monaca, income; New Kensington, amusement and per capita; North Belle Vernon, mechanical devices and Seward, severance.

Report 1,300 Of War Criminals Now Convicted

By GEORGE MOIR
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The War Crimes Branch of the Army's Civil Affairs Division announces that approximately 1,300 Nazi and Fascist war criminals have been convicted by International and United States courts in Europe. To date, in all theaters of the late war, some 2,500 defendants have been tried on war crimes charges. Of these 1,500 were tried in Europe and approximately 200 were acquitted.

Cecil F. Hubert, acting chief of the War Crimes Branch, said that while the top Nazi officials had been tried and convicted in the widely publicized first Nuremberg trial, many of the "geniuses" of the Hitler horror are on trial now. He explained that criminal proceedings against such notorious Nazis as Goering, Von Ribbentrop and Field Marshal Keitel had disposed of the figures behind many of them by death sentences.

Chief Underlings On Trial
But, he said, the chief underlings of those convicted probably were fully as guilty as their leaders. Some of these, notably Ulrich Greifelt and Wilhelm Von Leeb, are on trial in the last of the Nuremberg International Tribunal cases now. Hubert asserted:

"The famous criminals may have been responsible for atrocities, but the genius was at this level." Von Leeb, an SS general, and Greifelt, both are charged, among other things, with mass murder of defenseless civilians, both allegedly led groups of Storm Troopers and hoodlums who followed victorious German armies into occupied areas with the deliberate intention of eliminating part of the population.

Finish By August
Trials before the International Tribunal, Hubert said, should be finished by August. This will wind up the United States' part in Nazi war crime cases, as the major trials before U. S. Military Government Courts have been finished.

Among the current Nuremberg trials are those of Greifelt, indicted with 13 others; Von Leeb, indicted with 23 others; Otto Ochsendor, also charged with mass murder; the officials of I. G. Farben; Alfred Krupp and his associates in the Krupp Munitions Works, and a group of 20 second string Nazi officials.

Sentences for the guilty ranged from death to a few months imprisonment, many were given life imprisonment. A full breakdown of convictions and sentences, both by International and U. S. Courts will not be available until all trials are finished.

Must Serve Full Time
Hubert said that the United States had no intention of permitting the release of convicted criminals before their full sentences were served.

He pointed to the agreement reached by the United States and the Italian government that provided for full sentences for all convicted. Such an agreement will be sought in German peace terms, Hubert said, and it is doubtful if the U. S. would agree to terms that did not include it.

Hubert said that it would be next to impossible to estimate the number of persons condemned to death before all trial figures are in. However, a spot check of such cases as the original Nuremberg trials, in which 11—including Goering, Von Ribbentrop and Keitel—were sentenced to death, the Nazi medical officers trial and that of former SS officers would indicate that 20 per cent got the death sentence.

Opinion Given In City-County Suit

Judge Braham, In Opinion, Indicates Trial Will Be Necessary To Settle Dispute

INVOLVES LANDS ON TAYLOR STREET

In an opinion handed down by President Judge W. Walter Braham, in the suit of the City of New Castle vs. the County of Lawrence, Lawrence County Institution District, City of New Castle District, County Commissioners Earl R. Wimer, Karl C. Rohrer and Joseph Travers, County Controller Andrew M. Dadds, Victor Cubellis and Lloyd Thompson, which is a suit to cancel certain tax sales to Lawrence County of real estate belonging to the City of New Castle; and to cancel certain tax land sales made by the County of Lawrence to certain individuals, and to enjoin further taxing or selling at tax sale of lands belonging to the city, the court states that it is unable to make disposition upon preliminary objections, but that the case must go to final hearing.

Therefore, the preliminary objections filed by the county, and by Victor Cubellis are each and severally overruled and the defendants are directed to file their answers within 15 days.

The case is a peculiar one, some points of which do not seem to have ever been decided in Pennsylvania.

In brief, the Harmony Traction Company conveyed to the city of New Castle, six parcels of land on Taylor street in 1937, each of which was subject to tax liens to the county institution district and school district of Lawrence county (presumably, the school district of New Castle). These liens were kept alive, the court points out, by appropriate renewals until this bill was filed on May 27, 1946. No demand was ever made on the city to pay the tax liens. The city bought these lands for the proposed widening of Taylor street, but used part of it for a dump and part for a toolhouse.

From 1937 to 1940, the county and institution district continued to assess and levy taxes on the land, but since 1941, they were placed on the exempt list of the school district, but the school district continued to levy taxes against the property to the present time.

In 1940, the treasurer of Lawrence county advertised the lands for sale for taxes, and on May 1, 1940, all were sold to the County of Lawrence. On June 13, 1945, the second parcel was sold to Joseph Bloise. Sometime in 1946, the second parcel was again sold to Victor Cubellis and Lloyd M. Thompson by Bloise.

The city relies on the principles that taxes may not be levied by one municipal division against property of another, which is used for public purposes and that public lands may not be sold for taxes at the suit of one governing body against another.

The county relies upon the notice and opportunity for protest afforded by the statute under the right of redemption enjoyed, but not exercised by the plaintiff, and upon the notice required to be given by the city when the lands were sold for taxes. Victor Cubellis, the added defendant, sets out that the city failed to make timely objection and protest, also that the deeds of the Harmony company were quit claim deeds.

The collectibility of taxes which were a lien on lands which the city received through quit claim deeds presents a more difficult question, the court states, and this point does not seem to have been decided in Pennsylvania.

The city claims lack of knowledge of the liens prior to the treasurer's sale.

According to the present status of the case, therefore, it is indicated, that the case will have to go to a final hearing, and more evidence presented.

CRIMINAL COURT ENDS

The March term of criminal court has been brought to a close with the returns made by juries in the cases of Alfred M. Isenberg, of Pittsburgh; and Richard James McHale, of Butler county, charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Isenberg's case was tried before Judge John G. Lamoree in court room two, and resulted in a verdict of not guilty, but the defendant paid the costs. In the case of McHale, tried before President Judge W. Walter Braham in court room one, a verdict of guilty as indicated, with a recommendation for leniency by the court, was returned by the jury.

Congregationalists Plan Conference

Sharon, Farrell and Beaver Falls Churches To Discuss Merger At Local Church

At the First Congregational church, East Reynolds street, Saturday evening, at 7:30, there will be special conference of representatives of the Congregational church of Sharon, Farrell, and Beaver Falls.

They will meet in session with the executive committee of the local church, and other members of the church, who are interested in the merger of the Congregational churches and the Evangelical Reformed Church in America.

The voting will be completed, and returns made to the state office by April 1.

The local conference will be advisory in its conclusions, and will examine the controversial points concerning the autonomy of the local churches, the future of the national boards, and to what degree their freedom of thought will be influenced by the adoption of a uniform statement of faith of the new body—The United Church of Christ; whether the Declaration of Faith will be a Testimony, and not a Creed.

Henry T. Jones will preside at the conference and Rev. Thomas J. Jones, local pastor, will review the historical background of the issue.

Jane Froman Is Marrying Pilot Who Rescued Her

Singing Star Of Radio And Night Clubs Will Go To Altar On Crutches

MIAMI BEACH, March 12.—(INS)—Jane Froman, brunette singing star of radio and night clubs, will climax her "stranger than fiction" romance today when she marries the gallant air line pilot who saved her life in a plane crash five years ago.

Miss Froman will wed 33-year-old John Curtis Burn, a Pan American Airways pilot, in a quiet ceremony at 4 p. m. (EST) at the Miami home of Henry Chapin, a friend of the groom.

The bride will walk to the altar on crutches, but physicians say she will be able to discard them within a few months.

Doctors said her recovery from severe injuries suffered in the crash of a Pan American Clipper in a river near Lisbon, Portugal, in 1943 has been remarkable.

During that disastrous accident, which claimed 20 lives, Burn swam to the aid of the singer and managed to keep her afloat for a full hour until further aid arrived.

Miss Froman has undergone 25 operations since the crash. She resumed her singing career from a wheel chair, and later was able to appear on crutches.

Jack Dunlap, probation officer, was the guest speaker at Thursday's Optimist club meeting and spoke on the juvenile welfare program of the city, stressing the need of a local children's home.

Jimmy Dart, athletic director at the Y. M. C. A., outlined the coming city-county basketball tournament. He is handling all the entries. The games will commence March 22 with three offerings, at 7:15, 8:15 and 9:15.

Wayne Fullerton is ticket chairman for the tourney and "Chuck" Wilson will award the prizes the night of the finals. Joe Daugherty and Carl Salberg have been named to procure the officials for the games.

It was announced that May 23 will be charter night for the club. Wives of the members will be guests at a dinner. The time and place will be announced later.

Lee Frye, a transfer member from the Brookfield lodge, was a special guest at the meeting.

In Religious And Fraternal Circle

Hopewell Presbyterian
Westminster College gospel team will conduct the Intermediate society service Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in Hopewell Presbyterian church.

Slippery Rock District Youth
Slippery Rock District Youth council will gather Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Oak Grove U. P. church.

American Legion To Give Deshon Veterans Gifts
The Perry S. Gaston post of New Castle will give a case of cigarettes per month to hospitalized veterans at Deshon, it was announced today by Samuel Rashid, chairman of the community services division of the American Red Cross.

Gene Schweinsberg is the chairman of the hospital visitation committee of the post.

TO ATTEND MEETING
Harry Jones, city and county sealer of weights and measures, will attend a state meeting of the organization at Harrisburg, March 29—April 2, inclusive. New legislation will be discussed and methods employed by the sealers of various cities will be discussed.

Westminster Choir To Sing At Highland

Westminster College choir, under direction of Prof. James Evans, will offer a sacred concert Sunday afternoon, March 14, at 4 o'clock in Highland U. P. church.

Miss Audrey Duerr, contralto of Pittsburgh, and Donald Davis, tenor of Frederick, Md., will please with solos, while Raymond Ocock, of Somerset, Pa., will serve as organist.

DR. O. C. ADAMS DIES IN EGYPT

YOUNGSTOWN, March 12.—Dr. Charles C. Adams, dean of the School of Oriental Studies in the American University, Cairo, Egypt, died at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday Youngstown time. This word was received today by his brother-in-law, Rev. H. C. McAuley, pastor of the Brownlee Woods United Presbyterian church.

Mr. Adams leaves his wife, the former Nellie McAuley, who graduated from Westminster College in 1907 and who married and accompanied her husband to Egypt in 1908, and four children, three in America and a daughter in London.

While on a year's furlough, Dr. Adams made his home at New Wilmington, Pa., and his family resided in New Wilmington for several years.

St. Mary's Holy Name Plans Event

Holy Name society of St. Mary's church met this week at which time plans were being made for a communion breakfast to be held on Mother's Day.

President J. J. Maher presided and he appointed a list of committees to work on this affair.

This Sunday, March 14, the group will receive holy communion in a body at a mass in St. Mary's church.

Figuring 40 letters to a pound, postage for a ton of airmail letters sent from New York to Paris would cost $2,738 at 1947 rates.

Lady Marines To Mark Fifth Year

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—Thirteen Volunteer Training Units will help defecate the fifth birthday cake of the United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve on February 13th.

Originally formed on February 13, 1943, these Lady Leathernecks have given additional proof to the old adage: "Once a Marine, Always a Marine."

In the past year, many of the over 2,000 Women Marine Reservists, not content with merely an inactive status, have formed VTUs. The first of these 13 units to be formed was the New York detachment in April, 1947.

Under Staff Sergeant Betty Steele, it started with an active membership of 30 WR's and has since doubled its enrollment.

Springing Up All Over Country Within ten months, these units have sprung up all over the country—the most recent of which is the New Orleans detachment. Other units are in Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Oakland, and many other large cities.

A peculiar property of the turquoise is that it becomes grayish green in color as it gives up its moisture. This led to a belief that its dullness foretold misfortune, and hence the Oriental proverb that the stone pales when the well-being of the owner is in danger. The best turquoisees are found in Persia, Asia Minor, Turkestan and Siberia.

Disease Control In Farm Animals Sets New Record

Almost Two Million Tests And Examinations Made By Bureau Of Animal Industry In 1947

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—In its efforts to control and eliminate the various diseases of livestock on Pennsylvania farms a new record was established during 1947 in the number of specimens received and examined by the laboratory of the Bureau of Animal Industry in the State Department of Agriculture.

A total of 1,872,321 tests and examinations were conducted by the laboratory during the past year compared with 1,068,546 specimens received, examined and reported by the laboratory during the year 1946, according to Dr. C. P. Bishop, director of the Bureau.

"These laboratory tests comprise an essential service in the establishment of our confirming diagnoses especially important in dealing with a transmissible disease or the elimination of that possibility," Dr. Bishop declared. "Protection of the livestock industry is important since disease control reaches into the welfare of every group and because the industry is the source of meat, milk, eggs and other products which are essential to the health and welfare of our people."

The first livestock sanitary service to be established in the United States was set up in the present Bureau of Animal Industry in 1895, Dr. Bishop said. It is charged by law with the prevention, control and eradication of transmissible diseases of domestic animals and poultry. In the execution of its policies, it is necessary to have the full support of livestock owners and practicing veterinarians who have offered themselves for service in this work in their various locations, the Bureau Chief explained.

DELAY CONSTRUCTION

SHARON, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—Construction of a new field house at Sharon high school will be delayed until building costs are lowered or the voters approve a bond issue to meet the costs of the project.

The board of education, which planned to spend $350,000 on the construction, found low bids totaling $563,000.

It has been suggested that girls run about the way they do because they are trying to find their mothers.

State Police Arrest 68,300 During 1947

Speeders Top List Of Offenders During Past Year With 13,568 Arrests

HARRISBURG, March 12.—The Pennsylvania State Police made 68,300 arrests for highway violations in 1947 as compared with 54,160 in the previous year, according to a report issued today.

Leading the list in 1947 as in 1946 was exceeding speed limitations for which 13,568 arrests were made last year while 10,724 were apprehended for the same violation in 1946. In the second and third place in 1947 and 1946 were "stop" sign violations and improper passing. The former accounted for 11,820 arrests in 1947 and 9,120 during 1946. Arrests for improper passing in 1947 totaled 6,806 with 5,768 being apprehended for the same violation in 1946. Arrests for other violations in 1947, included: reckless driving, 5,464; exceeding weight restrictions, 4,815; operating without operator's license, 4,742; operating vehicle not properly inspected, 3,835; improper or no registration, 3,390; failure to drive on right side of highway, 1,363; failure to yield right of way, 1,313; failure to yield one half of highway, 1,032; parking on highway, 971; operating while intoxicated, 604; permitting violation of motor vehicle code, 523; violation of learners' permit requirements, 457; misuse of license plates, 436; and 9,161 arrests made for miscellaneous violations.

"It is unfortunate that arrests are necessary to impress upon certain thoughtless drivers their responsibility toward others," said Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, State Police Commissioner, in commenting on the increase in the number of arrests. "They are made necessary by the carelessness of that small group which represents less than 10% of all drivers. Arrests will continue to increase until this selfish minority realizes the importance of living safely with others on the highway."

ROSE POINT

MISSIONARY MEETING

Mrs. J. L. Ayers was hostess to the Women's Missionary Society of Oak Grove Church on Thursday. The day was spent quilting and at noon a delicious tureen dinner was served by the hostess with Mrs. Vernon Fisher serving as co-hostess.

The meeting was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. Robert Stoner, and Mrs. Newton Young led the devotionals. The Mission Study was reviewed by Mrs. Charles Myers and Mrs. Charles Sherman. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Vernon Fisher; vice president, Mrs. E. T. Armstrong; secretary, Mrs. Charles Sherman; recording secretary, Mrs. Audley McClymonds. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Newton Young with Mrs. Abe Stoner, co-hostess.

Count Whales By Underwater Device

La JOLLA, Calif.—(INS)—The Scripps Institution of Oceanography announced recently that war-developed sonar, an underwater echo-ranging device, has proved practical in tracking whales.

In a demonstration of the new method of scouting for whales, a naval party located two whales and "followed" their movements for about a mile.

Gifford Ewing, member of the group from the Navy Electronics Laboratory, said that the whales clearly echoed supersonic impulses beamed through the water.

The experiment was so successful that the annual census of migrating whales will be taken by this means. Heretofore, fog and darkness have hindered census-taking in the past. Consequently the count has seldom been considered accurate.

Whales swim from the Bering Sea to Baja, California every year to mate and calve.

Colonel Shoemaker Assumes New Post

HARRISBURG, March 12.—(INS)—Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, senior state archivist, has been named head of the newly established Pennsylvania Folklore Division of the State Historical and Museum commission. It was announced today by Director Donald A. Cadzow.

Shoemaker, a former Altoona publisher, will receive $4500 a year in the new post, Cadzow said. He has served as head of the state archives for 11 years and as president of the Pennsylvania Folklore society for 18 years.

To Quiz McCabe On Inflation

May Decide Fate On Reserve Board

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(INS)—Members of the Senate banking committee will quiz Thomas B. McCabe next week on what he thinks should be done to control inflation.

Sen. Sparkman (D) Ala., predicted today that McCabe's chances of confirmation as a member of the Federal Reserve Board will depend on the answers he gives in the "money test".

Sparkman says he sees nothing in the testimony so far to reflect on the "integrity, character and ability" of McCabe, a Swarthmore resident and Philadelphia banker, who, if confirmed, is slated to be named chairman of the Federal Reserve Board. He would succeed Marriner S. Eccles, who has been made vice chairman.

The senator added that he was speaking as "an Eccles man" but, he explained, he thought President Truman was entitled to confirmation of his appointees unless objections were well grounded.

Sen. Tobey (R) N. H., chairman of the banking committee, has developed extensive testimony on irregularities in sales of surplus property in China while McCabe was foreign liquidation commissioner.

McCabe said that four days after he arrived in Shanghai he asked an Army investigation of the irregularities and insisted on dismissal of the man directly in charge, then Brig. Gen. B. A. Johnson.

SERVE CITRUS FRUITS TO MEET VITAMIN C NEEDS

Since oranges, lemons, and grapefruit are plentiful, they may be used in many ways in daily menus. Use them instead of tomatoes or tomato juice for the daily supply of vitamin C.

Serve orange or grapefruit juice unstrained because the pulp contains much of the vitamin C. Whenever possible squeeze the juice just before serving, but if it must be squeezed ahead of time—keep it covered and in a cold place. Vitamin C is easily destroyed when exposed to air. Instead of always serving juice, try cutting the fruit in half or peeling and slicing it.

Breakfast is not the only meal where citrus fruits may be served. Lemon or grapefruit juice adds a special flavor to hot cooked greens. Orange, lemon, or grapefruit juice squeezed over canned or cooked dried fruits gives them a life. These juices also help to keep fresh fruits, such as bananas and apples, from turning brown. Citrus fruit juices help to brighten the flavor of other foods. The juice is excellent for thinning cheese spreads, minced ham, or peanut butter for sandwiches. Gelatin desserts are especially good when orange juice is used instead of all water.

For an unusual salad, try thin slices of Bermuda onion with slices of peeled orange and serve with French dressing. Orange or grapefruit sections alone or combined with other fruit make a delicious salad. For this kind of salad, serve a fruit salad dressing. Here is a good recipe for this dressing:

2 eggs, beaten
½ cup sugar
pinch of salt
¾ cup hot fruit juice (equal parts of orange and lemon juice.)

½ cup heavy cream, whipped. Add sugar and salt to eggs, stir in fruit juice gradually. Cook over hot water until the mixture thickens, stirring to prevent lumping. Cool. Fold in whipped cream just before serving. Pineapple, grapefruit, or apricot juice may be used instead of orange and lemon juice.

NEED TO SAVE ALL USED KITCHEN FATS

Fat salvage is good kitchen economy since meat dealers pay well for every pound of used fat turned in. Used kitchen fat, processed for industrial use has a tremendous significance.

Made usable for industrial purposes, used cooking fat adds to the total supplies of fats and oils. Kitchen fat made available for industrial use adds to the total supply of all-purpose fats, food and industrial. This interchanging of fats and oils means that homemakers who save and turn in every possible pound of used kitchen fat help to ease a world scarcity as well as to meet United States needs.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 12—(INS)—Joseph Vitale, burly-built guy who studied to be an opera singer, has been devoting his time almost exclusively to making life miserable for Bing Crosby and Bob Hope. Singly and in tandem.

The screen's newest boogie man has applied himself so zealously to his trouble-making job in four successive movies that he now is known as the favorite mental hazard of Paramount's popular Rover Boys.

The hard-working heavy's latest assignment in the menace department is with Der Bingle in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court".

Joe portrays a black-hearted knight named Sir Logris whose dastardly deeds include arresting Crosby on the trumped-up charge that he is an escaped slave.

Really Whams Bing

In the end he clouts the groaner over the noggin with a wicked-looking mace. So enthusiastically that Bing is whammed clean out of King Arthur's realm and smack back into latter-day Connecticut.

Before taking on this chunk of screen skulduggery, Vitale concentrated his tormenting talents on spoiling Bob Hope's wedding night—with Jane Russell. Yet in "The Paleface" in that flicker Vitale is an unromantic Indian who puts Bob to sleep by blasting him over the bean with a tomahawk.

In Hope's Hair?

Vitale initially got into the Hope hair when they were associated in "Where's There's Life". You might remember him as the boss of a murderous blackhand gang that expended its evil energies on thinking up ways of doing the luckless old ski-nose.

Then he trained his shootin' irons on Crosby & Hope as a team when they took off along the "Road to Rio" with Dorothy Lamour. He harassed Bing and Bob for the better part of nine reels with such cute tricks as dropping jardiniere out of windows at their craniums and taking pot shots at them with a high-powered rifle.

Vitale, a former Broadway actor, admitted today:

"It's a dirty shame to treat a pair of pals in such a scummy fashion. But it's all in a day's work. And the script writers always see to it that Bing and Bob get out of my coils and traps."

Youth Group Will Hear Butler Man

PORTERSVILLE, March 12—Portersville Youth for Christ will meet again on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Portersville U. P. church with Walter Bauder, president of the organization, in charge.

Special speaker for the evening will be Rev. R. L. Thorne, pastor of the Butler Fundamental Baptist church. Special instrumental music will be presented by members of the Butler church.

On Thursday evening, April 1, Dr. Percy Crawford, nationally known youth worker and speaker will be presented along with Mrs. Crawford and the Young Peoples Church of the Air Quartet. The program will be given at 8 o'clock in the Portersville Presbyterian church.

Juvenile Cases
In Erie Shrink

ERIE, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—

Juvenile delinquency in Erie county today has dropped to its lowest point in recent history according to Judge Elmer L. Evans.

The judge attributed the decline to a public awakening to parental and civic responsibility to children.

He said a total of 100 cases of delinquency were reported in Erie county last year. That is the lowest since such cases were first recorded in 1935.

Magill Cubs, Quakers, Pythons Win In Tourney

City Recreation Loop Finals Thrill Crowd

The third annual city recreation league basketball tournament ended at the Washington High floor last night, with championships going to the Magill Cubs, Penn Quakers and Red Pythons as a large crowd looked on.

The tourney brings to an end the successful recreation league that saw 110 teams take part during the season with 1,100 boys playing basketball. All of the teams had a great time in league play and a lot of fine sportsmanship was displayed in the tourney.

Cubs Midget Champs

The Magill Cubs easily defeated the East Side Midgets by a score of 28 to 21 for their 19th win of the year against no defeats. The Cubs looked great all during the season and clinched their success by winning the coveted title.

Matthews and McNamara were the outstanding stars for the Cubs with eight points apiece, while Phillips was high man in the game with 13 of the East Side points. The Cubs led at the half 16 to 4.

Penn Quakers Champs

The Penn Quakers just barely outlasted the Crofton Sharpshooters to win the junior championship.

Roller-Hockey At Arena Floor Sunday

New Castle Arena roller-hockey team will play the strong Bridgeville team at the Arena floor Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was announced today by Harold Stanley, Bridgeville held the Western Pennsylvania title last year.

The locals will try hard to defeat the favored "Bridgers" and climb high in roller-hockey circles. In their last outing the Arena team defeated the powerful Glassport team, runners-up for the championship last year. The game Sunday promises to be a thriller all the way. The admission is 35 cents per person. Roller-hockey is fast returning as a big sport here.

Eagles Will Play New Kensington

The New Castle Eagles and Coach Bill Patton will face the New Kensington Eagles team at the "Y" at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. It was announced today by Business Manager Rocco P. Viganio.

New Kensington is reported to be bringing a strong quintet here to battle the locals. Coach Patton is confident his team can upset the visitors.

Red Pythons Champs

Coming from behind with a rally in the last half, after trailing at halftime 11 to 2, the Red Pythons annexed the senior championship of the league by nosing out the

Wampum Wins Big Church Loop Tilt

Defeat First Baptists, 52-45, In First Place Battle; Kanagy Stars

The jet-propelled Wampum team of the Church League took an important battle from the First Baptists last night at the "Y" floor, 52-45, handing the latter team its second loss of the second half.

Dave Kanagy poured in 21 points in the Wampum victory.

In other games the First Methodists whipped the First Congregationalists, 45-36 and in a C-1 loop affair, the Legion took a narrow 35-33 win from the Bronze Local 60 passers.

Thomas High Man

Thomas led the scorers in the game with 11 points, helping the Pythons to their title, with Hares and Snyder each contributing six points. Best in the Hawks lineup were Snow with seven points and Hamilton with five, Bogden with four.

'Chiefs' Will Try Out Many Local Players

The New Castle "Chiefs" of the Middle-Atlantic league are anxious to tryout a number of New Castle players and also players from Ellwood City, Wampum, Bessemer and other parts of the county. Any young man desiring a tryout is asked to contact "Bugs" Walther at the News, phone 4000 or at his home 3946-W.

The latest young man to seek a tryout is Joe Ford, of Ellwood City, now a sergeant in the U. S. army in Korea, who is expected home shortly. Ford is a right-handed pitcher, 20 years old, 6 foot 2, and weighs 195 pounds. He pitched the Ellwood City High team to the WPIAL championship in 1946 prior to entering service. He is anxious to make baseball a career, and is a very fine looking prospect. Dick Janacone of this city is another young hurler who will be given a tryout. Janacone is 6 foot 1 and weighs 175 pounds. He is also a right-hander. Janacone pitched for the Universals last summer.

Briefs From Major Camps

(By International News Service)

The two New York major league teams were in the limelight today, the Yankees for their pitching and the Giants for their hitting.

Red Embree, Frank Hiller and Don Johnson combined to hold the St. Louis Cardinals scoreless at St. Petersburg, Fla. for the second successive day, the Yankees winning 1 to 0.

Three young Oakland pitchers had the Giants shut out at Phoenix, Ariz. 3 to 0, with two out and nobody on base in the ninth inning when New York suddenly blasted five hits for a 4-3 win. Mickey Grasso's homer and Bobby Thomson's two-run double featured the rally.

Paul Miner's two-run homer in the ninth gave Brooklyn a 4 to 3 triumph over the Dominican All Stars at Trujillo City.

Detroit's Tigers went on a slugging spree, scored 12 runs in the fifth inning and swamped Cincinnati 15 to 3.

The Cardinals' "B" team nosed out the "B" Phillies at Clearwater, 5-4.

Hooks Wyse of the Cubs held the Pirates to six hits and beat them 4 to 3 thanks to a three-run homer by Eddie Waitkus and another circuit clout by Andy Pafko. Los Angeles beat Cleveland 5-2. Ranks of the holdouts continued to diminish when two prominent National league pitchers came to terms, Johnny Sain with the Boston Braves and Emil Kush with the Chicago Cubs.

Zubkowsky Benefit Sunday At Pulaskis

K.P. 'Big Five' Will Play Pitt University Gridders At 3:30 O'Clock

Al Gonet and his K. Pulaski "Big Five" are all set to play a benefit game Sunday at the K. P. hall for their star center and guard, John Zubkowsky. The opponents will be the University of Pittsburgh gridders. The game will follow a 2 o'clock prelim in which the Cubs will meet a local team.

"Big Zub" will enter a Cleveland clinic after basketball system season is over for treatment. The money derived from the Sunday game will help defray his expenses.

In the Pitt lineup will be such well known stars as Lindy Lauro, Tony Razzano, Bimbo Ceconi, Leo Skladany, Bob Plotz, Ralph Short and Bernie Barkovsky.

The club is looking for a packed house Sunday in honor of the aggressive "Zub".

Twelve Teams In City Loop

Schedule Not Yet Arranged: Hold Next Meeting At Carm's April 8

City Baseball loop will consist of 12 teams this year according to a decision arrived at by officials of the circuit who gathered last night at Carm's place, West Washington street.

The teams which will compose the circuit follows:

Lawrence Indies, South Hills, Universal A. A., Union Civics, West Side Tigers, Dewey A. C., St. Margaret's, Duce Abruzzi, Ecclesian club, West Pittsburgh, Ryantown and Slovak A. C.

It has not been decided how the schedule will be played.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at Carm's April 8.

TEMPYS BEACH FIVE DEFEAT COLLEGIANS

Tempys Beach Five of the East Side defeated the Collegians at the Franklin High floor last night, 55 to 17, with Jimmy Janacone having 21 of Tempys points and Toscano 12, with Conti getting ten. For the Collegians the playing of Bartkowski was the best with nine points. "Tempys" Beach team is entering the Optimist tourney.

Western Kentucky Five, St. Louis Win In Garden

By LES CONKLIN (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 12.—The national invitation basketball tournament was running true to form today with Western Kentucky and St. Louis reaching the semi-finals.

However, it was the fourth-seeded Billikens of St. Louis, and not the top-seeded Western Kentucky Hilltoppers who captured the fancy of most of the 17,179 fans in the opening round of the post-season tourney at Madison Square Garden last night.

Western Kentucky hit the point-odds quotation almost exactly on the nose by beating LaSalle of Philadelphia 58 to 61, with neither team playing particularly good basketball. But St. Louis, favored over Bowling Green by only three points, dazzled the crowd by romping to a 69 to 53 landslide victory.

St. Louis enjoyed a lead of 55-31 over Bowling Green with ten minutes of play remaining. At the start, the Billikens got the jump with their sizzling fast break and outside game.

They smashed an 11-11 deadlock with a 13-point 2 1/2 minute outburst that settled the issue in the first 12 minutes of play.

Don Ray of Western Kentucky was the individual high point scorer of the evening with 18 points. Larry Foust of LaSalle and Charlie Share of Bowling Green scored 15 each.

Dan Miller and Marvin Schatzmann shared honors for St. Louis with 12 each.

The other half of the tourney's opening round will be played at the Garden tomorrow night with Texas tackling New York university, and North Carolina State playing LePau.

JOHNSTOWN CATHOLIC WINS

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—Johnstown Catholic, with the Western Pennsylvania Catholic title already won, today was looking forward to the Pennsylvania final which will be played in either Allentown or Philadelphia March 31.

Johnstown had an easy time winning the Western title from North Catholic, of Pittsburgh, 53-39, at Johnstown last night.

North led once early in the contest but proved to be no match for LeRoy Leslie and his mates. Leslie scored 27 points to pace the victors attack. Johnstown held a slim 21-19 lead at half time.

Underdogs Victors In K.C. Tourney

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 12.—(INS)—Two underdog teams turned in upset victories over favored opponents to go into the semi-finals tonight of the National intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Kansas City.

Indiana State Teachers of Terre Haute tripped up the San Jose (Cal.) College Spartans, 59 to 52, after overcoming an eight-point halftime deficit.

Louisville University surprised a plucky Beloit (Wis.) College team by blasting the Beloiters out of the running, 85 to 76.

In tonight's semi-finals Indiana State faces Hamline of St. Paul, Minn., in the first game and Louisville meets Xavier University of Cincinnati, O., in the second.

Hamline dropped Manhattan College of New York from the tournament.

The final score was 60 to 51. Xavier advanced with 62 to 50 victory over Mankato (Minn.) Teachers, runners-up in the 1947 tournament.

Would Divide Waterfowl Season

When the Lawrence County Sportsman's association met Tuesday night they adopted a resolution asking the State Game Commission to give consideration to a split waterfowl season, such to be divided into two equal periods with an equally closed period.

It also proposed that woodcock season extend over a longer period and to include the first week of the small game season.

JUNIOR CHURCH LEAGUE

Following contests are scheduled for Saturday night at the "Y" in the Junior Church League: St. Paul vs. St. George, First Baptist vs. First Christians, Epworth vs. First U. P., First Presby vs. First Methodists, S. S. Alliance vs. Third U. P. and Trinity vs. Croton.

Tonight in the House League the G. I. Shines meet the Rebels and the Redskins clash with the Safety 5.

Dodger Influence Fatal To Pirates, Cubs Triumph, 4-3

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 12.—(INS)—Manager Billy Meyer today had an inkling of what it's going to be like to have some former Dodgers on his team.

The Dodgers have reputation for doing the unorthodox and at times unbalancing things. Meyer with eight of their number on his roster is in for a hard time. Take Cal McLish's performance yesterday.

The Chicago Cubs were beating the Bucs in the ninth inning and the former Dodger, pitcher was sent in as a pinch runner for Clyde Klutts. Cal must have thought he'd been sent to stroll down Hollywood Boulevard, because he was picked off base on the first pitch.

As Joe Grace doubled a moment later, McLish's move really hurt the Pirates and gave them their first loss of the training season, 4-3.

All the Cub runs resulted from homers. Ed Waitkus hit one with two on, and Handy Andy Pafko unloaded one with the sacks empty.

Penn State will signalize its 60th year of intercollegiate baseball by playing a 21-game schedule in 1948.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

COACH LEO HOUK of Penn State's boxing team, has advised that, only the very best college boxers should enter pro' ranks. He is in his twenty-sixth, as coach. Among those he developed were Billy Soose, middleweight champion, and Steve Hamus, who went good until a trick knee interfered with his ring career. Among those Leo boxed was George Chip of this city. . . . Rizieri Ronzi, Youngstown, and Bob Baker, Pittsburgh, plus Paddy Grimes, Monaca, and Cal Hill, Pittsburgh, will be the main two bouts on the Lions' March 29 fistic promotion at New Brighton. Baker is the Pittsburgh 1948 GG heavyweight champion, but lost out in the New York finals on a decision. . . . Red Landfried of Greenville, meets Ernest Keith of Erie in the port town, Friday night. Red recently outboxed Jimmy Page there. Landfried is a light-heavyweight. . . . Lalo Sabotin of Warren who lost out in the finals of the Chicago GG meet, intends to enter the Boston National A. A. U. He was beaten by Bud Turner of Cincinnati in Chicago. According to some fans, Sabotin took two of the three rounds. It was his first defeat in 31 fights. . . . Dr. Reginald S. Weir, Negro tennis player, has been accepted into the National Tennis Championship tournament which got under way today in New York. He is the first Negro entry into the tournament in the 67-year history of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association. . . . 5,100 trout, both rainbow and brook were stocked Thursday and today in the west branch of the Little Neshannock (at Hermitage), Big Run and Deer creek. . . . Tom Farrow, local 'cop, was a former boxer in Jimmy Dime's stable. . . . Haven't heard of Elkins Brothers boxing since he stopped Speed Williams. . . . Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City lightweight, is now a pro'.

Salt water fishing is different than fresh water fishing, says Walter Ringer, just back from Florida. "Everytime you come in, you must cleanse your line in fresh water, otherwise it would deteriorate." Nets are similarly treated, he reports. . . . Suckers of the red horse variety often are taken on flies. . . . George Rigby, city sanitary "cop" has been a-fishin' for suckers already. . . . Letter from Jimmy Dunn, Cleveland, says he has opened a gymnasium on Cleveland's West Side, and is building a new stable. He has taken over the tutoring and management of Mike Berkovitch who scored a knockout over Russell Baker and handles Lionel LaGrew, the promising youngster who fought twice at Flaherty field, last summer. He would like to show Berkovitch here against any middleweight, he writes. . . . Council, upon motion of Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander, yesterday set Sylvan Heights golf course prices as follows: nine holes, 65 cents; 18 holes, 90 cents (except on Saturday, Sunday and holidays); all day, $1.50; membership, $25; man and wife, $35; league play, nine holes, 50 cents and on Saturday, Sunday and holidays, nine holes, 65 cents, and 18 holes, $1.00. The foregoing prices were recommended by the advisory committee of which William Saul is chairman. . . . Writing from memory sometimes causes embarrassment. "Frishtance recently Here & There wrote that Rosy Stoy knocked out Mog Pugh. "You're wrong!" said Ralph Dart, Wednesday night. "Stoy scored a knockdown but the fight went the limit with Stoy winning" Dart said. Thanks, Ralph for the correction. . . . The best looking kids on Wednesday night's fracas bill were Johnny Hobart, Tex Martin and Frankie Lentine. All won. For his time in the ring Hobart 'shaped' up better than Martin and Lentine. . . . 3,017 paid to see Jack Biddle beat Bulldog Rutherford at Roanoke, Va. . . . Sam Santafante gave no notice to the Jefferson A. C. he had a broken nose and believed he would be able to fight Rizieri Ronzi, Wednesday night. The examining physician properly counted him out when he refused to pass him.

MARCEL CERDAN, LAVERN ROACH IN 10-ROUNDER

NEW YORK, March 12.—(INS)—Marcel Cerdan, holder of all middleweight honors in Europe and the bag in America, will launch another of his truly remarkable campaigns tonight in behalf of vigorous frustration, vigorously arrived at.

He will go 10 "fast" rounds with Lavern Roach, of Plainview, Tex., at Madison Square Garden for no reason in particular, save perhaps to confirm the old saying that man must fight or get thrown out of the ring. In other words, the French challenger is going right along, gathering his futility where he may.

Just a year ago, he almost got to Tony Zale and his world's title ahead of Graziano. Now he's belting it out with Brash, young Texan from the Marine Corps who probably don't know when they've been belted in Rachmaninoff's prelude in C-major minor.

Cerdan can't get anything that way, except maybe a surprise lapping from a gent who's still well below the championship strata.

ABC GAMES CONTINUE

DETROIT, March 12.—(INS)—The American Bowling Congress' 80-day tournament will plunge into its second day with the start of doubles, singles and all-events competition shortly before noon today at the State Fair Coliseum.

The tourney, which is the greatest ABC contest in its history so far as entries and prize money is concerned, was officially launched last night in ceremonies attended by Detroit Mayor Eugene Van Antwerp and a host of other Michigan dignitaries.

When the last pin has fallen May 29, some 37,000 individuals, representing 6,548 teams, 14,018 doubles combinations and 27,968 solo entrants will have rolled in the contest.

Oppose Raise In Uniontown Budget

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 12.—(INS)—County Commissioner John W. Rankin today was firmly opposed to a raise in Uniontown's 1948 budget.

The commissioner said, "there are more employees than work in the county building." He added that too many who come to the office for only a few hours and do little work are demanding raises. He feels they are not entitled to raise in pay and thus is opposed to increasing the budget in order to grant the pay hike.

Lyle Hughes Rolls Duckpin 638 Total

Lyle Hughes, of the Penn Power Company, star bowler of the First U. P. team of the church duckpin league, hit a tremendous three-game series of 638 last night, with a one-game high of 278. The First U. P. was rolling the First Free-bymen at the time. Hughes had games of 169-375-194—total 638, which is some duckpin feat at any time. Dean Forrest of the Second U. P. team rolled a 365 game last night for runner-up honors in scoring for the week, at the Traversers alley.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

Houses For Sale

... it would be a good idea to consult a trustworthy real estate man, one qualified to use the title "Realtor". And it's an equally good idea when you're selling, renting or leasing. The professional Realtor has a current knowledge of prices and markets, as well as a sharp eye for flaws which the inexperienced might miss. His knowledge of real estate and real estate practices will save you delays, misunderstandings—and money. So many real estate mistakes are big ones.
